Government Still Making Arrests in Frustrated Plot

Havana —A small band of anti-Castro conspirators was reported still holding out in central Cuba today as government raiders continued their roundup over the country of persons suspected of plotting against Fidel Castro. Maj. Raul Castro, brother of the prime minister and commander-in-chief of the armed forces, told an American marine who had been accidentally caught in the dragnet that 3,000 suspects had been seized.

Unofficial sources said most probably would be released after police sort them out in a hunt for ringleaders.

No Details Given

The report of the holdout conspirators came from Mario Kuchilan, a Cuban journalist and radio commentator close to Prime Minister Castro. Kuchilan said a small group was at large in Las Villas province in central Cuba. He gave no details.

Earlier there had been unconfirmed reports of government troops skirmishing with anti-Castro forces in this agricultural region, which is deeply concerned with the revolutionary regime's land reform program.

Buchilan also charged that the Dominican Republic's dictator, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, had contributed $52,000 and a ton of arms toward the conspiracy.

Accused of Murder in Traffic Death

White Plains, N. Y. —

The 20-year-old son of a Wall Street broker has been indicted on a first degree murder charge for killing a boy bicyclist with a small truck while trying to scare him.

Conviction could mean death in the electric chair for Jonathan McLain Young, of Bedford Village, N. Y., a son of John Young. The youth was indicted yesterday under a rarely-used section of the New York penal code.

Young told police he was driving his pickup truck July 1 when he saw two boys on bicycles ahead of him. He said he headed his truck at them "just to scare them and not to hurt them, but I misjudged the distance."

Failed to Stop

The boys were Richard Sullivan, 13 and Michael Dill, 15, both of Mount Vernon, N. Y. Dill suffered a brain concussion and has recovered. Young Sullivan died on the way to a hospital.

Dist. Atty. Joseph F. Gagliardi of Westchester county said Young did not stop but drove on after the accident. Later he returned to the scene and questioned officers.

Still later in the day he walked into the Bedford Village police station and questioned officers there about the accident. When they questioned him he admitted he was the truck driver.

Gagliardi said the murder charge was based on a part of the state law which allows it as a result of "an act imminently dangerous to others and evincing a depraved mind regardless of human life, although without a premeditated design to effect the death of any individual."

Senate Drive Launched to Override Veto on Housing

Fire Destroyed This 63-Foot yacht, "Nan-J-Lin" at DePere this morning. The craft, owned by Dr. R. B. Lenz, was docked adjacent to the Lenz boathouse on the Fox river. Firemen saved the wood dock and boathouse. Defective wiring was listed as the cause of the blaze by DePere fire Chief A. E. Jacobs.

Odds Apparently Favor Ike Victory; Sparkman Raps President's Message

Washington —Leading a move to revive a vetoed housing bill, John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today the measure would provide for necessary programs at minimum levels of expense.

Sparkman urged the senate to reverse President Eisenhower's veto of the $1,375,000,000 measure. The odds appeared to favor an Eisenhower victory.

Sparkman, chairman of the housing subcommittee, criticized Eisenhower's veto message as "intemperate, misleading and incorrect." He specifically denied that the bill was extravagant, as Eisenhower had said.

Despite its large over-all total, Sparkman said, the bill's spending impact on the president's budget in the current fiscal year would be only a few million dollars, and so would not cause any deficit.

Defends Programs

His subcommittee, Sparkman said, "received ample evidence that these programs are necessary, and the overwhelming preponderance of the evidence showed that the amounts proposed were at minimum levels and were certainly not extravagant."

Many witnesses, the senator said, also "categorically denied" Eisenhower's assertion the bill would be inflationary. Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said a night session is being planned if necessary to reach a decision within one day.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) predicted the Democrats would fall short of the necessary two-thirds and that the vote thus would sustain the president.

Democrats would say only that they expected it to be close.

Even if the senate votes to override, the house appeared unlikely to do so. A two-thirds vote in both houses is needed to pass a bill over a veto. When the vetoed bill was passed in June, the senate vote was 56-31 and the house vote 341-177, less than the needed two-thirds in each case.

Shift Strategy

A sudden shift in Democratic strategy yesterday brought the decision to seek a showdown on the veto before doing anything about passing new housing legislation.

The housing subcommittee voted 5-4 last week not to recommend trying to override the veto. Instead the group wrote a pared-down substitute $1,050,000,000 bill.

Sens. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), the subcommittee chairman, and J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) voted with three Republicans to make the five-member majority in that decision.

But Sparkman and Fulbright switched yesterday and tipped the balance 8-7 in the full banking committee in favor of a try at passing the rejected bill over the veto.

President Aims 'Must' Program

Lists Bills He Wants Passed Before Session End

Washington —President Eisenhower today called for congressional action on labor reform, interest rates, housing, civil rights and pay-as-you-go highway financing before adjournment.

Eisenhower said he considers an adjustment of interest rates vital to the soundness of the nation's money.

He also told the news conference that he hopes congress will pass a reasonable labor bill to end what he called blackmail picketing and other abuses.

He expressed hope, too, for enactment of sound civil rights legislation.

The president said he still wants the interstate highway program to be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis instead of leaving the bills for our grandchildren.

Congress so far has turned down his request for an increase of 14 cents in a 3 cents a gallon gasoline tax to provide construction money for the big road program.

Eisenhower said he also would like to see congress pass legislation designed to handle the vast wheat surplus — but he conceded there is no hope for this legislation at this congressional session.

Vote Ike Authority Over Interest Rates

Washington —The house ways and means committee yielded to President Eisenhower today by voting him authority for three years to raise government bond interest rates if he considers it necessary.

It was a compromise, pronounced satisfactory by Sec. of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, between the president's original demand for outright repeal of the 41 percent interest ceiling on long-term bonds and the committee's original 2-year grant of authority.

100 Shaken Up as Jet Airliner Bounces On Chicago Landing

Chicago —

One hundred persons aboard an American Airlines jet airliner were shaken up Tuesday when the 120-ton craft bounced heavily on landing at O'Hare airport.

The Boeing 707 jet broke its nose running gear, lost both front wheels and skidded more than 14 miles on the runway but did not nose over. An airlines spokesman said the plane, with 92 passengers and a crew of 8 on non-stop flight from Los Angeles to Chicago, bounced some 40 to 60 feet in the air after the initial landing impact.

Damage to the $5 million plane was estimated by the spokesman at $50,000.

The passengers and crew members were examined by a company physician and released.

Khrushchev Invited To Military Areas

Some Installations Open to Russian Premier, Ike States

Gettysburg, Pa. —President Eisenhower said today that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is being invited to see some military installations during his visit to the United States if he wishes.

The Soviet leader will be given a wide range of choice on the kind of installations open to him, the president told a news conference. If he does not want to see any establishments, that's okay with Eisenhower too.

Discussing the unprecedented Khrushchev visit beginning in mid-September, Eisenhower said he intends to tell the Soviet leader that U. S. bases abroad are purely defensive and threaten no one.

Wants Homes Visited

He also plans, Eisenhower said, to ask why Khrushchev does not permit the progress in improvement of east-west relations which Eisenhower considers necessary for a summit conference.

Eisenhower said he is most anxious for Khrushchev to see the fine, small, modest homes in which Americans live, including those in such specific places as the Levittown development and the community around the Fairless Steel plant in Pennsylvania.

Presumably Eisenhower had in mind the Levittown development on Long Island. Eisenhower said in fact he would like to take Khrushchev to see some of these homes.

Adenauer Expected To Make London Visit

London —British officials said today they expect west German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to visit London in the autumn to help smooth hard feelings between the two countries.

The visit would take place after Soviet Premier Khrushchev's trip to Washington and June delayed this and a new target date of Sept. 1 was set.

Fear Epidemics On Formosa

Medical Teams Work Long Hours In Wake of Flood

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Taipei —

Medical teams worked around the clock today to prevent epidemics in the wake of Formosa's worst floods of the century. Forty cases of typhoid and dysentery were reported at Taichung, in central Formosa.

With 248,184 homeless on the national Chinese island, sanitation was a major problem. More than 185,000 acres of land were flooded, and nearly 41,000 homes were destroyed or damaged.

Officials said the latest count of the known dead after the disastrous weekend was 645, with 519 persons still missing. The floods in central and southern Formosa followed torrential rains last Friday.

A U. S. Marine helicopter crashed today while trying to get food and water to 34 villagers isolated 10,000 feet up in the mountains of central Formosa. Three Americans and a Chinese officer escaped injury.

To assure future food supplies, slaughter of cattle, sheep and pigs was ordered suspended for eight days.

Little Rock, Ark., Psychiatrist to Head Winnebago

Madison —

Dr. Charles Hayden Belcher of Little Rock, Ark., has been hired as superintendent of Winnebago State hospital, the department of public welfare announced today.

Department Director Wilbur J. Schmidt said the 34-year-old psychiatrist will take over his new job Sept. 1. He will succeed Dr. John T. Petersik who resigned earlier this year.

Belcher was formerly director at the Southeast Louisiana hospital at Mandeville, La.

Javelin Thrown by Brother Kills Girl

Los Gatos, Calif. —A javelin thrown by a 14-year-old boy practicing with hope of making the high school track team bounced off a tree limb Tuesday and killed his 8-year-old sister.

The blunt wooden end of the spear struck the girl in the neck beside her collarbone with such force it penetrated her lung, pulmonary artery and her heart. She died 50 minutes later in a hospital.

The child was Maria Engert, who came here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Engert, only a week ago.

The javelin was thrown in a high arc by her brother, Thomas. It struck the limb of an eucalyptus tree and fell back. A sister, Jean, 9, was standing beside Maria.

No New Incidents As Classes Reopen

Little Rock, Ark. —Three Negro girls walked into Hall High school today, opening Little Rock public schools to integration.

There was no demonstration from some 20 spectators, watching from residential lawns across the street.

The girls arrived in a private automobile. They got out of the car in the street in front of the school. They walked together into the building.

The Negroes, Elsie Robinson, 16, Estella Thompson, 16, and Effie Jones, 17, entered Hall at 9:26 a. m.

Their entrance restored token integration to a public school system which was without high schools last year. Hall and the other three high schools were closed last fall in the racial dispute.

Given No Escort

The auto carrying the Negro girls came from the west. Most of the 100 newsmen at the scene did not notice its arrival because they were at the east end of the building. The car had no police escort. Police Chief Gene Smith had said the Negroes would have to come to school like everyone else.

Three white boy students were stationed on the porch.

Series Explains Developments in Castro's Cuba

How are things going with Fidel Castro's revolution? Just what is the status of communists in Cuba? Is there hope for the farmers for whom Castro said he waged his long fight against Batista? Or is another dictatorship developing on that Caribbean island?

William L. Ryan, Associated Press foreign news analyst who was in Cuba when Castro's bearded men came out of the hills and ran Batista out of the country, returned there recently for a look at what has been going on since Jan. 1. Now, in a series of three articles beginning in today's Post-Crescent, he reports his findings.

The first article is on Page B-7.

Warning From Reds

U. S. Activities in Laos Threat, Peiping States

Tokyo —Communist China declared tonight that it considers U. S. activities in Laos a threat to its own security and will firmly oppose them.

The Chinese communist foreign ministry demanded in a Peiping radio broadcast that "all American military personnel and arms and ammunition must be withdrawn" from Laos and "all U. S. military must be abolished."

It was the strongest language Peiping has used in the Laos crisis and resembled warnings communist China issued before entering the Korean war in 1950.

No U. S. Bases

(In Washington the state department repeated that the United States has neither military bases nor troops in Laos.)

(No official comment was immediately available concerning the red Chinese allegation that the trouble in Laos was "engineered" by the United States.)

(But department officials privately ridiculed these charges.)

("As far as we know it was not the United States but the communists who started the trouble by invading the northern provinces of Laos," one official said.)

Youth Admits Arson And Vandalism in Georgia Art Museum

Columbus, Ga. —

An 18-year-old library page boy will plead guilty Friday to charges of setting a $30,000 fire in an art museum and scrawling swastikas on Jewish synagogues, authorities say.

Solicitor General (Prosecutor) John Land denied reports that the youth, Richard V. Smith, Jr., might be turned over to mental authorities.

Land described the studious youth, who likes to read Nazi philosophy, as "very intelligent but misguided."

Suspected of Murders

Police Trying to Link Prisoner With Killings

Islip, N. Y. —A husky, crew-cut construction worker was in jail on a robbery charge today, but authorities apparently have been unable to connect him with three recent murders on Long Island.

Mrs. Bloeth Bloeth

He was, however, "prime suspect at the moment," Suffolk County Dist. Atty. John P. Cohalan said yesterday.

The man, Francis H. Bloeth, 27, a former convict, lives in a 2-room attic apartment near here with his wife and baby daughter.

Cohalan said Bloeth was picked up Monday night on a tip from a former burglar who said he had sold Bloeth a .32-caliber revolver in June and a .32-caliber automatic later.

Congress to Press On Into September

Senate Majority Leader Wants to Pass on Labor, Housing, Rights, Highways Before Adjournment

Washington — Congress apparently will continue its session into September. The current question is, how far into September?

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said yesterday congress will stay on the job until it passes effective legislation on labor, housing, civil rights, highways and pollution control.

Johnson wouldn't set a target date for adjournment but indicated it might take until mid-September to get all this done.

His opposite number, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, had a different idea. He said he hopes that "late on Saturday, Sept. 5, the members of congress will decide they have been in Washington long enough and they will go home."

Only three days ago Johnson's right hand man, assistant Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, had still another guess—about Sept. 1.

Editors Stress Closer Human Relationships

Newsman Urge More Emphasis on People To People Reporting

Seattle — Editors called today for "people to people" news reporting to help spread mutual understanding around the world.

Telling the problems and hopes of foreign peoples will do more, they said, than "government to government" reporting emphasizing only policy decisions of major powers.

The need for such reporting was outlined to the Associated Press Managing Editors association here by a committee headed by Robert C. Notson of the Portland Oregonian, which studied foreign news developments in the past year.

Small World

This committee is acutely aware that we live in a shriveling world, and an integrated one," Notson's report said. It added that today's newspaper readers, "want to know what other people are thinking. They want to know what kind of persons are dealing with us."

The continuing effort to humanize the news was emphasized by Michael J. Ogden, APME president, in an address opening the 4-day convention of news executives.

Ogden, managing editor of the Providence (R.I.) Journal-Bulletin, told the 250 editors and guests:

International News

"If there were points we stressed more than others this year, they might be said to have included more people-to-people reporting" and the "continued need for enterprise reporting."

W. H. Cowles, Spokane, Wash., publisher and a director of the Associated Press, emphasized the role of the news cooperative in creating international understanding.

In a pre-convention address yesterday, Cowles called the AP the nation's most important instrument for spreading international goodwill through the distribution of unbiased news reports.

Four-Year-Old Wayne Hess, Jr., left, grits his teeth and shuts his eyes as he tries to hold one of the eels he and the other youngsters caught in a roadside ditch at Tampa, Fla. Observers said the eels were moving from one small lake to another.

Russians Claim Discovery of Galaxy Nucleus

London — Astronomers in Leningrad today reported the discovery of a dense nucleus of hot gas in the center of the Milky Way, the galaxy visible on earth.

Moscow radio, quoting the Soviet government organ Izvestia, said the average temperature inside the nucleus is nearly 18,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The nucleus is formed of hydrogen atoms, the building blocks of the universe, which are thinly spread through even the most tenuous parts of outer space.

Izvestia said the discovery was made "with the aid of the observatory built recently in Pulkovo, which has the largest radio telescope in the world."

The largest radio telescope in the western world is the one at Jodrell Bank in England, which has a bowl 250 feet in diameter.

Radio telescopes locate objects in outer space, many of them invisible to ordinary telescopes, by picking up radio waves they give off.

Trooper Mourns; His Shot Killed Youth

15-Year-Old Incurable Shoots It Out in Michigan Swamp With Police

Pontiac, Mich. — Fel-driving a car stolen in the Algonac area.

Martin headed for the youth home in Commerce township and fired three shots at a group of boys near a parking lot. An official at the home had grabbed the car's ignition keys and the youth fled afoot into the brush and swamp land. He kept running for two miles before officers overtook him.

Robert Martin was a "kid" in years only. He was 6-foot-1, weighed 180 pounds. Juvenile authorities called him incorrigible. He carried a nickel-plated .38 caliber revolver.

Fight to Death

Young Martin fought it out to the death with police after he terrorized the Oakland county youth home near Pontiac where he fired at a group of boys. Why, no one knew.

He fled on foot into a swamp, pursued by officials of the youth home. A force of 20 troopers and deputies joined the chase.

Troopers MacDougall and Stanley W. Doubleday and Deputy Raymond A. Bills got within firing range. The youth fired at least six shots at them.

Martin refused to drop his revolver.

"I'll shoot you first," he shouted to MacDougall.

The trooper fired. The bullet hit the youth between the eyes.

"He pointed the gun at me and pulled the hammer back," the trooper said. "I heard him moan and, when Trooper Doubleday ran over and grabbed his gun, I knew I had hit him."

'Some One Had To'

"Some one had to go in there. It just worked out that I did."

Martin had been in the youth home for six weeks before he was transferred to the children's center in Pontiac as an incorrigible. He fled from the center Monday and returned late yesterday.

Nixon Camp Believes Rockefeller Sure to Work for Nomination

Vice President Regards Battle Between Them as Inevitable

Washington — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is convinced that, come what may, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller intends to battle him for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

The New York governor has indicated he will make a decision by November. If private polls then show Nixon trailing leading Democrats in popularity and Rockefeller feels his reputed appeal to independent voters would make him a stronger GOP nominee, he will take the plunge.

Nixon's reaction to all this, it can be said on the best authority, is that anyone can get any kind of result he desires from private polls. He thinks Rockefeller wants to run and will find that the polls support such a course.

Inevitable Battle

But Nixon never really believed he could get the nomination without a fight, and since Rockefeller's election as governor he has regarded a battle between them as almost inevitable.

For this reason, Rockefeller's recent demonstration of near-eagerness for the contest has come as no surprise to the Nixon camp. Nor does it alter plans for the vice president to attend almost exclusively to his governmental duties until November.

If Rockefeller comes out in the open then—or makes an earlier announcement after huddles with strategists impatient to get him into national circulation—the Nixon plans could change accordingly.

At this point the vice president has no thought that President Eisenhower might designate him to accompany Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on the latter's scheduled tour of the country.

Tour Assignment

While such a tour assignment might enhance Nixon's political stature in the international field, it is not expected to materialize.

Instead, Nixon will stay in the background when Khrushchev comes to Washington, limiting his contacts to official affairs to which he would have been invited even if he had not conferred at length and jostled with the Soviet leader in Russia.

For all of his six and half hour discussion with Khrushchev at the latter's villa near Moscow, Nixon does not expect to be included among the U. S. advisers if Eisenhower takes the Soviet premier to the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md.

Advancement of Colored People, jolted Honey, a white man, from sleep last night.

"I heard the kids hollering in the living room and ran in there," Honey said. "The bullet didn't miss Janet a foot."

One bullet struck the Honey home, crashing through the west wall, passing over Janet's head and imbedding itself in the south wall. He said about four other shots went wild.

Shots Rang Out

Mrs. Bates' husband and L. F. Palmer, editor of the Tri-State Defender, a Memphis, Tenn., Negro weekly, and several other persons were standing in front of the Bates' home when the shots rang out.

"The car came down the street in front of the Bates home and turned into a street about a block away," Palmer said. "We heard the squeal of tires and the shots but no bullets struck near us."

No one caught even a glimpse of the occupants of the car.

The Bates' home has been the target of bullets before, and rocks, and stink bombs and other harassments since Mrs. Bates became a leader in efforts to integrate Little Rock schools. Four Negroes were scheduled to attend once-white schools on opening day today.

Honey said the gunman apparently was foiled by a high hedge in the Honey yard.

We're Used To It

There was no doubt in Honey's mind that the shots were aimed at the Bates' house.

"This sort of thing shakes you up," he said. But he indicated he would not move from the racially mixed neighborhood.

"We're used to it," said Mrs. Bates. She declined further comment.

Burglars Return for Part of Needed Loot
Los Angeles — When burglars carried off three photo duplicating machines from his office three weeks ago, Fred Ernst thought he had the last laugh.
“They can’t use those machines because no one else in this area has photo copy paper that fits.”
Ernst isn’t laughing any more.
Burglars broke into his office again last night and took $1,000 worth of the photo copy paper.
made $150 a week as a construction oiler, had no debts. Bloeth was sent to prison for auto theft. His first arrest as a juvenile delinquent was for burglary.

on a flying trip around Washington, D. C., in his “chopper”—his helicopter—so Khrushchev could see the fine homes which have developed in the areas around Washington.

Would See Birthplace
Khrushchev should also go into the great farming regions of this country and see farms that are run by individual free men, Eisenhower said. He added that he would like the Soviet premier also to go into the little town where he was born—Denison, Texas—and hear from the people there how Eisenhower worked in the early years of his life.

Apparently in referring to the town where he was born, Eisenhower used a figure of speech intended to take in Abilene, Kans., the town where he grew up and where he did chores in his boyhood. In response to a series of questions about the Khrushchev visit here next month and his visit to Russia later, Eisenhower also said:

1. He hopes his talks with Khrushchev will produce a better atmosphere between Soviet Union and the western powers, but he does not intend to engage in negotiation or act as a spokesman for the west.

More Information
He also hopes that Khrushchev will get better information about the United States

Federal Mediator Says Steel Talks Work for Lawyers

New York — The steel strike negotiations are “mostly a lawyers’ job” in their current phase, says the nation’s top mediator.

That’s the appraisal given to newsmen by Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the federal mediation and conciliation service, as the nationwide strike of half a million workers went into its fifth week.

Finnegan is sitting in on contract talks between representatives of the industry and the United Steelworkers union of America. The talks continue today.

could happen to a political party. That was in response to about such visits and as long a question as to whether he would consider his younger brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower of the Johns Hopkins university in Baltimore, excellent material for the Republican vice presidential nomination.

Again Eisenhower refrained from expressing any personal preference for a GOP presidential nominee from among nine of ten persons he has said might be qualified.

If the right kind of nominee is picked, he said, he will do all he can to assure his election by pitching in to the 1960 campaign. Now, the president said, he does not regard his role in the selection of a nominee as that of exercising veto power over someone who might not be satisfactory to him in terms of foreign and domestic policy.

Eisenhower said he has not changed in the slightest his attitude that the federal government should not intervene in the steel strike, four weeks old today. He said he has noted some suggestions in the steel strike, four weeks old today. He said he has noted some suggestions in the steel strike, four weeks old today. days of this month in a 30-mile area on this eastern section of Long Island, netted less than $400. Two men and a woman were killed in three separate robberies.

All three killings followed a pattern. The victims worked alone, at restaurants, and the holdups were around midnight.

Bloeth took a lie detector test in Manhattan yesterday at his own request, but authorities said the results would not be made public. Bloeth claimed the test cleared him. “I didn’t do it, the machine said I was right,” he told reporters.

He is accused of a tavern holdup near here last month. Cohalan said Bloeth admitted the holdup, but Bloeth told reporters he didn’t do it.

Hands Over Money
Cohalan said the man in the tavern holdup held a gun to the head of bartender Joseph Principe and pulled the trigger four times. Each time there was a harmless click. “Do you want to try for five?” asked the gunman, and the bartender quickly handed over his money—only $60.

Bloeth’s wife, Jane, 25, a former waitress in a Greenwich Village restaurant in New York City, said she knew about Bloeth’s record—he was first in trouble when he was 15—when she married him two years ago.

As for the killings, she said “I feel he’s not guilty. He can’t be, not of that.”

She was questioned yesterday, and later received reporters in her $65-a-month apartment in a one-family house in a residential neighborhood.

A slender, dark-haired woman, she said “he couldn’t have done those things and treated me and the baby with the tenderness he does.”

She said her husband, who will help repatriate those who want to return to South Korea, which has bitterly opposed repatriation to North Korea. But South Korea has made no firm offer to repatriate Koreans in Japan or give them jobs.

The announcement said the Red Cross would send a mission to Tokyo soon to help set up the repatriation. It said it had decided to join the enterprise after receiving satisfactory Japanese assurances that no Korean would be repatriated by Japanese authorities against his will.

and that he will get better information about Russia on his trip there.

2. Eisenhower does not plan to accompany Khrushchev on his tour around the United States. They may visit Gettysburg or nearby Camp David, Md., together but so far that is only a possibility.

3. His decision to invite Khrushchev to the United States and to go to Russia is not by any means a reversal of the policies of the late Sec. of State John Foster Dulles.

He often talked with Dulles about such visits and as long ago as the last month of 1958 they began to feel that their diplomacy should be reinforced by something new in this respect.

Interested in People
4. On his own trip to Russia, Eisenhower would like to see people and find out what they are like. He said that as a state visitor he will be surrounded by great crowds all the time and will not be able to see many sights such as buildings, but he will have a chance to get acquainted with people and that is his main interest.

This was the first time the president ever has held a full-scale news conference outside Washington. The setting was in a gymnasium at Hotel Gettysburg. The gym was converted into a press room at the time Eisenhower was here recuperating from his 1955 heart attack.

There have been a few previous sessions with newsmen outside of the capital, but they have been mainly one-shot affairs for discussion of some particular subject.

“This time the rules were the same as for a Washington conference—with reporters largely guiding the discussion by questions of their own choice.

Against Dynasties

at Hall High, distributing orientation material. The boys handed copies to the Negro girls and the girls went on in. They exchanged no words.

The streets around the school were barricaded. Fifty patrolmen were on the scene to keep order.

Hall High, located in an upper-income residential district, was the first of two once-white high schools scheduled to open on an integrated basis today. The other is central high, due to open at 1 p.m.

Tech High, a small vocational school, was to open with white students only in attendance. The all-Negro Horace Mann High school opened this morning without incident.

Gov. Orval F. Faubus, who last night harshly criticized local officials but warned against mob action, had no comment this morning.

Central High school was scheduled to open this afternoon with one Negro boy and 1,436 white students assigned. It was at Central that violence exploded in September, 1957, over the admission of nine Negroes.

The only discord was a policeman’s objection to radio equipment erected on a utility pole across the street from the school. A network had put it there. Police Chief Smith ordered it torn down. He said it violated his ground rules for news coverage.

Pickets showed up early at the capitol to protest integration. Six pickets walked back and forth in front of the building with signs.

“Race mixing is communism,” one sign read.

New Rainwear Fashions Lean To Fall Tones

Navy Colors for Ponchos, Car Coats

When the autumn rain begins to fall, families will rush to the closet and bring out their trench coats, plastic raincoats, rain and shine coats and yellow slickers.

The women in the family will greet the fall showers in rain and shine coats of loden green and navy. Many of these are reversible and can be switched from plain to plaid or printed. Sou'wester hats that match the raincoats will keep the ladies' hair dry.

Rainproof poncho and car coats as well as trench coats are worn by the collegiate set.
Over slacks and Bermudas a colorful plaid or printed pon-cho keeps the rain away. All weather car coats are appropriate attire at windy, rainy football games and to and from classrooms.

Trench Coats
The foreign intrigue trench coat with large notched collar and double breasted buttoning is returning to the rainwear scene. Worn with a wide belt and buckle, the coat goes anywhere.

High school girls like the rain and shine coat in poplin that can be worn in all kinds of weather. Many of these coats have an insulated lining and can be worn until the first snow fall.

On rainy days, school children wrap their books in plastic carrying bags, don their brightly colored raincoats and boots and skip through all the sidewalk puddles. The boys wear yellow slickers with hoods and the girls are attired in miniature coats that copy their older sisters.

Plastic Coats
As the men hurry to and from the office in rainy weather, they will want a plastic raincoat they can throw over their suit or light overcoat.
These come in clear plastic as well as smokey or cloudy shades.

Those days when the water stands in puddles, women will like slipping their feet into the many fancy rain boots now available. Many styles with shaped heels and laces serve as shoes. The novelty boots come in all bright colors and prints to brighten up a dull, drab, rainy day.

Umbrellas are now leaner and longer with decorated handles that make them fashionable accessories. In stripes, plaids, or plain colors, they match and mix with raincoats.

Milwaukee Road Second Half Net May be Down

Chicago — Second half net of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad is likely to fall behind the year-earlier total, but the year's profit should wind up slightly ahead of 1958, William J. Quinn, president, said.

Gains made in the first half, the company's best in five years, should make up for the expected last - half drop, he predicted. A prolonged steel strike, however, could have an adverse effect on net.

In 1959, earnings were $8.- 379,067, or $2.73 a share, on gross revenues of $244,262,- 808. The carrier is off to a good start this year with first six months' profit of $1,650,- 185, or 17 cents a share, in contrast to a loss of $1,648,- 728 the year before.

"The steel strike is already having some effect." Losses from loadings of iron ore probably will cost the carrier between $250,000 and $350,000 in revenues this month he said. "We're fortunate in one way, though, that iron ore is not a major factor on our road at this time of year."

Innocence by Association

The newspapers at Madison have been indulging in an entertaining argument about the size of Gov. Nelson's payroll.

The Wisconsin State Journal, which historically has shown an affection for Republican ideas and candidates, sent a reporter to examine the executive office disbursements of the first six months of the new Democratic dispensation, and to make a comparison with the costs of the Republican governors who were Gov. Nelson's immediate predecessors.

To nobody's particular surprise, it concluded that the new governor has hired more people to work with him, and is spending a good deal more money in the process.

All of which has annoyed to exasperation the Capital Times, the other newspaper in the capital city which not only supposes its purpose to be defending Democrats on every occasion, but also the promulgation of the party's philosophical line.

The Times angrily complained about distortions, and representations, but it could not quite manage to refute the idea that Gov. Nelson of the "bare bones budget" publicly gimmick is spending rather handsomely in his own establishment.

Frustrated by the comparison on the record, the Times sought to defend Nelson's disbursements by recalling that some of the services he now is performing were endorsed by such organizations as the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce.

We are not aware that the chamber is the arbiter of what is proper or improper in the way of state spending, and we are reasonably sure that Mr. Frank Hausheer, the director of that worthy organization, would not claim such privilege.

But we are delighted nevertheless, for in this heated exchange between the Madison editors we have discovered what is very likely a new doctrine of liberal thinking, a new thesis for the liberals who hail Mr. Evjue as their authoritarian patriarch, as well as a new technique in political debate.

It is the rule of "innocence by association." If a Democrat can find the Chamber of Commerce backing him, anything is permitted. He could give away the title to the capitol. It is a frightening power and responsibility for the chamber, whose officers must be rubbing their eyes in astonishment after the years of unremitting denunciation to which they have been subject through Mr. Evjue's erratic pen.

Two Areas Face Integration

The device of organizing private schools to avoid the U. S. Supreme Court ruling regarding integration is being put forward on a major scale in one county in Virginia. But the results in Little Rock, Ark., indicate that the plan may not last.

Prince Edward county, Virginia, closed all its schools according to state law when they were ordered integrated by a federal court. Churches and other private buildings have been offered for classroom use and backers of the plan say they have enough room. Sixty of the seventy teachers who were working in the public schools have been hired. Negro opportunities for education right now are in considerable doubt since Negro leaders have avoided establishment of private schools fearing it would handicap their cases relating to such schools now in the courts.

Meanwhile in Little Rock, the three private high schools which operated last year have closed their doors. Two were church run and designated simply to provide educational opportunities. The third was a school organized by a group dedicated to segregation. But the simple fact of not enough money has closed the schools. Most of the citizens with children in Little Rock, it now appears, are willing to permit gradual integration rather than foot the heavy bills for private segregated schools.

There are two rather obvious factors involved in these two disputes. First, the violence that occurred in Little Rock had outside incitement if one judges by the relative peaceful situation at the present. Secondly, the citizens of Virginia, while scorning vulgar demonstrations and rock throwing, may be willing to pay more for what they regard as better educational opportunities. And there also is the question now as to why federal money is needed for building when at least one community, aroused about the wrong cause, is able to provide emergency schools on a large basis.

Building Reaches a New Record

Money spent for construction not only stimulates business in many activities far from the building site but it also provides something permanent that can be expected to contribute to our prosperity and well-being for many years in the future. Thus it is of interest that the F. W. Dodge Corp., reports that construction contracts for the first half of 1959 set a new all-time record for the period. There had been a steep climb in building contracts from the low point of the recession in February, 1958, to the high point of June that year. The summer months stayed high but there was not a great change during the past winter.

The report notes that the peak reached in the middle of 1958 was due in large part to government stimulation of highway activities as an anti-recession measure. In contrast today, the record climb in the first half of 1959 has been without benefit of special governmental help. A new high has been reached by the sharp rise in privately owned projects which have overcome a considerable decline in government projects. This is considered by Dodge as a most significant fact since it is taken as an indication of the more solid basis for the present advance.

It is pointed out also that the new record is due to the expansion of the building categories of construction as opposed to the heavy engineering work. Family houses, apartments, industrial buildings and commercial buildings (particularly stores) are the areas of the greatest strength.

The total construction contracts for the first half of 1959 amounted to $18,876,000,000 up 12 per cent from the same period in 1958; non-residential contracts were $5,718,000,000, up 4 per cent; residential contracts were $8,884,000,000, up 37 per cent; and heavy engineering contracts were $4,274,000,000, down 11 per cent.

The industrial building indicates a rapid recovery after a rather slow start. During the first six months of this year contracts for factory buildings ran 28 per cent ahead of the same period last year. However, by June the figure was up 89 per cent and the trend is expected to continue. It is noted that last year's level was so low that there still is room for considerable gain.

Contracts for housing were strong throughout the period and show no tendency to taper off. Commercial buildings have shown unexpected strength. Store buildings have been increasing throughout the first half of the year and in May and June office buildings took a sharp upturn. Highway contracts fell off considerably below last year's figures but this was expected because of the raise last year due to emergency programs. The heavy engineering report shows that there was a severe drop in May and June which brought the figure below last year. However, this is reported to be a temporary situation related to the timing of contracts and may be expected to be corrected.

The report indicates that contracts for privately owned projects in the first half of the year rose 29 per cent above a year ago while publicly owned projects actually dropped by 13 per cent. In the first half of the year the privately owned contracts accounted for 69 per cent of the total construction contracts compared with only 60 per cent in first half of 1958. The privately owned construction work is of special importance for such building is undertaken because commerce and industry need the buildings for the expansion of their production and distribution work and thus an increase in this area indicates a future increase in commerce generally.

James Roosevelt Reaps Fruit Of FDR's Political Philosophy

Rep. James Roosevelt of California, eldest son of the late Democratic president, confirms that a syndicate of which he is a member intends to open an amusement park in Puerto Rico modeled on Disneyland. It may be said without fear of contradiction that Jimmy's fun park will fall far short of the amazing edifice created in Washington by his sire and called the New Deal.

The attraction of Puerto Rico is that business ventures there are excused from paying United States income taxes on their profits. Thanks in large part to the labors of Roosevelt Sr. and his successors, assisted by an almost unbroken string of Democratic spending Congresses for more than 25 years, opportunities to earn and keep a buck in the United States are greatly diminished because of high income taxes.

Although we are not aware that Rep. Roosevelt ever distinguished himself as a champion of smaller spending and reduced taxes, his career from his earliest days as a political insurance broker has disclosed a consistent appreciation of the virtue of a fat bank account. Finding the opportunities in this direction somewhat constricted because of the policies which he and his pere have unloaded on this country, Rep. Roosevelt scans the horizon for a land of opportunity, sights same afar and proposes to sink part of his wad in the hope of a substantial appreciation of assets.

We can think of no more apt commentary on the effects of the Roosevelt political philosophy as they apply to the American enterprise economy.

Asks Appleton People Rescind Invitation to Nikita Khrushchev

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I have visited your fine city on several occasions and have witnessed the dedication and virility with which it has stood against the communist philosophy. Therefore, it was shocking to learn that a leader of your community had invited the dictator of Communist Russia to visit Appleton, home of that great American anti-communist, the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Growing City Needs Good Plans Program

From The Cedar Rapids, Ia., Gazette

It is good to know that the Cedar Rapids City Plan commission staff is going to work on master subdivision layouts to serve as a general guide for future platting. The idea is to coordinate the developments laid out by different subdividers in the same general area of the city. A generalized master plan will enable subdividers to get a better look at the overall picture in the area and to know how their subdivision fits into that picture.

Lack of this type of broad-scale planning in the past is readily evident in some areas of the city where it has been necessary to jog streets together, only to discover that even then they sometimes are of different widths.

With continued growth indicated by almost every sign, it is not too early to begin crystallizing future street plans so the pattern will fit together as new subdivisions are admitted.

Narcotics Clinics

Save State Money

Chicago — A North-western university professor says the taxpayer saves money by supporting Chicago's narcotics clinics, which cost the state government $65,000 a year.

Dr. Benjamin Boshes, chairman of Northwestern's department of neurology and psychiatry, cited figures showing that each addict costs the taxpayers $10,000 a year for crime losses, imprisonment costs, court expenses and other costs.

I realize that our president has admitted that he was left almost breathless trying to defend our form of government against the arguments of Gen. Zhukov for the communist form of government, and that V. P. Nixon recently remarked, "Let us speak less of the threat of communism and more of the promise of freedom. Let us adopt as our primary objective not the defeat of communism but the victory of plenty over want. . . ." However, this apparent adoption of the approach of abject, disgraceful appeasement of International Communism does not mean that everyone must make a shrinking show of weakness by compromising with evil.

I pray that your citizens will rise to the occasion and rescind this invitation thus demonstrating to the world and especially to the American prisoners of communism that they are one community that understands the communist modus operandi and will not be one of its "hand maidens."

Farm Youngsters Go Modern, No Different Than City Cousins

From The Wisconsin Agriculturalist

"One rarely meets a timid child today. Bashfulness has gone out of business. In this era of rapid travel babies are exposed to strangers from the day of their birth. Infants learn the art of meeting people before they have mastered how to walk. . . ."

"The farm youth of today is no longer a shy, awkward country bumpkin. He has acquired an equality with his city cousins in all the social relationships."

Beef Cattle Serve As Fire Protection

Cayuta, N. Y. — One hundred beef cattle are guarding the giant Cotton-Hanlon Lumber Mill from fire.

Their job is to keep down grass in pastures that otherwise would turn tinder-dry in late summer. The herd has grown from 20 in 1943.

Census Shows State Growing

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 14, 1880.

With the counties of Manitowoc, Marinette, Milwaukee, Taylor and Washington yet to hear from, the official census of Wisconsin looms up 1,098,492. The population in the same districts in 1875 was 1,047,634.

The entire population, with the counties to be heard from, carefully estimated, will be 1,305,000. In 1875 it was 1,223,729, and in 1870 it was 1,054,670.

In the older agricultural counties, the increase has been very light, noticeable in villages and cities at the expense of rural districts. Along the lake shore and northern counties the increase is most noticeable.

Under the Capitol Dome

Presidential Primary Has Some Advantages

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — There are increasing doubts abroad among the politicians and the academicians, about the worth of the state presidential primary laws as they have evolved in this century.

But a Wisconsin citizen may reflect that there is some gain in the Wisconsin system, as it has worked out. It provides him with a front row opportunity for the inspection of presidential aspirants in this country that he never would have had except for this state's primary law and the fact that it comes early enough in the nomination year to be of considerable strategic and publicity value.

The Wisconsin law during the last 20 years has forced some of the nation's chief leaders, from Harry Truman to Wendell Willkie, from Robert A. Taft to Estes Kefauver, and many others, to stomp the Main streets and the courthouse squares of this state as even the humblest candidate for the legislature or the sheriff's star must.

AGAIN

The parade is starting again.

The immediately available example is Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, one of the eager candidates for the Democratic nomination next year.

Humphrey has become so familiar a sight on the Wisconsin campaign platform that some of his admirers, half jokingly, have referred to him as the third senator from Wisconsin.

But there will be others. Sen. Jack Kennedy has shown an extraordinary concern for Wisconsin audiences, remembering this state's unimpressive size as a voting center. Sen. Symington has come here while there are many other states of equal rank he has not visited.

Vice President Nixon has visited Wisconsin more frequently than most other states of its size, and it is not hard to guess that his choice of Wisconsin as a place to make a speech during the last four or five years was related to this state's famous primary election law. Indeed, Nixon may find Wisconsin a difficult problem next fall and winter as he contemplates his strategy in getting the 1960 nomination. Should he enter here, even if nobody else files on the Republican ballot? Most politicians are guessing now that he won't be required to do so, his fences being in magnificent order here, unless Gov. Rockefeller decides to gamble on a Wisconsin primary test. In that event the vice president's hand would be forced.

FEW SUCH LAWS

This unique front-seat advantage for the voters of Wisconsin, it should be noted, results from the fact that the presidential primary remains an unproved experiment.

Comparatively few of the states have adopted the direct election system of choosing their nomination convention delegates. It is evident that if all of them had such laws, Wisconsin would lose its preferred position. Candidates would be physically unable to campaign in all the states and would choose the larger and more important jurisdictions for such efforts as they felt they had to make.

Sen. Humphrey spoke thoughtfully about the problem of presidential primaries when he was interviewed by statehouse reporters the other day. He warmly endorsed the Wisconsin primary idea but conceded also that a good formula for a national primary has not yet been worked out.

It is worth passing notice that the man who spoke so heartily about the Wisconsin primary, which he is eager to enter, comes from a state which has just repealed its own similar law, and holds a position of political authority there that could have saved it had he wanted to do so.

Flexible Tax Policy Helps Avoid Trouble

From The Wisconsin Tax News

Persons who cite Michigan's plight as an argument against Wisconsin levying a general retail sales tax possibly are more anti-sales-tax than pro-Wisconsin.

Students of tax policy see the Wisconsin plight as different from Michigan's only in degree. Our government spending is increasing faster than the tax base can grow to support it. In both states the element of flexibility is lacking in the tax structure.

Michigan relies heavily on the sales tax but also earmarks a great amount of the revenue from that sales tax so that it cannot use it where it needs it most. It's like having your house on fire but not having a hose long enough to reach a free flowing hydrant out at the curb.

Michigan's troubles are not due to the sales tax. They are aggravated by too much earmarking of sales tax revenue.

Wisconsin's troubles are due to heavy dependence on income and property taxes which restricts growth of the tax base, and deliberately turning away from the high producing broad based sales tax.

Any state can get in a rut where taxes are concerned. The state wise enough to shift tax policy to accommodate changes in the economy won't get in such a rut.

Kindergarten Miss Can Look to High Fashion

Full Style Range Has Been Adopted For Primary Folks

The coed of today has nothing, fashionwise, on the kindergarten.

Nearly everything that's tops in fashion on campuses throughout the country — be it style, cut, fabric or color — has been adopted for wear in the primary school classroom and made washable besides, for clothes for this age group must be easy to live with and launder.

An old look has been adapted to a new theme for young misses as well as for their older sisters. Marks of the gay 20's are repeated in old-fashioned full skirts and ruffled shirtwaist fronts, and even in the raccoon collar trim of coats.

Such demure styling is seen, too, in detailing such as wide collars, high-necked bodices, provincial prints and embroidery, lace and rick-rack trims.

Transitional Cottons

This styling can be seen first in dark, transitional cottons, more important in every young lady's wardrobe as the opening day of school comes earlier in September. Textured fabrics and white trims are among the prettiest features of those practical dresses.

New spice tones are another lively feature of new styles from kindergarten on up. Even the 5 year-old can boast of dresses in warm but muted shades such as sage green, nutmeg, ginger and paprika red. Shown again this year are the ever-popular clan plaids, including Black Watch and Royal Stewart.

Even separates are scarcely less important for the kindergarten than the coed. But their washability — many are blends of wool with such synthetics as orlon and nylon — gives them an added versatility.

Skirts and Tops

Accordion and box pleated and flared skirts with elastic waist bands for the convenience of the young set and their mothers are mated with practical, no-iron tops of cotton lisle and orlon, often featuring color detail to match the skirts.

A flared narrow wale corduroy skirt comes with a rope belt of the type being featured in college shops.

One wardrobe item more important to younger than older misses is the jumper which eliminates the shirt-tail problems which are frequently those of the very young. Jumpers may be gored or gathered, in corduroy or washable blends, and sometimes feature button trim.

Slacks Outfits

Other separates suited to some classrooms are slacks outfits in plaids and solid corduroys with knit waistbands and matching tops.

Costs are as much an echo of those on college scenes as of other fall wear. Like older styles, kindergarten set coats

Really Excited About Their new fall coordinates in bright blue and black plaids are these three little lassies. The fabric is fine washable pinwale corduroy for the smart, scoop-neck jumper, topper jacket, capri pants and pedal pushers. A washable acrilan blouse in white mixes well with all the items.

Poor Vision May Cause Child Problem

Personality problems in a child may be due to faulty vision. Not seeing properly often produces a distaste for reading and studying. The youngster's grades suffer — and he suffers from a feeling of inadequacy.

The wearing of glasses seldom causes a child embarrassment today as it once did. Perhaps the fact that adults, and especially women, have discovered that well-chosen frames can improve their appearance, has encouraged the child.

It is vitally important that youngsters have periodic pre-school time eye examinations. Between these times, parents should watch for signs that indicate professional eye care may be needed. Such signs are frowns, rubbing of eyes, holding books too close to the eyes, covering one eye, headaches, a distaste for reading and suddenly lowered grades on report cards.

Once it is found a child needs corrective lens, parents should make sure the youngster wears the glasses.

According to safety experts, out of three riders injured usually violate traffic rules.

Parents, and children, too, should concentrate on keeping bikes in good repair and to learn and obey traffic rules and regulations.

Children Cheat Because Situation Enhances It, Research Discovers

Many children do cheat in school, but why?

Educational research has discovered that ordinarily the reason is not the child's poor moral background or education. Rather it is due to the situation in which the youngster is placed.

The attitude of the teacher, the atmosphere of the classroom and the morale of the group are all significant.

There is no stereotype for the child who cheats — although most often it is the student who has a lower intelligence and greater outside pressure "to do good."

Even the boy coat — a "6-button Benny" to those in the trade — is available and has a zip-out lining to make it a welcome year-round addition to any wardrobe. The storm coat is back, too, in petit-point tweed and solids.

Student Needs Learning Tools

Proper "tools of learning" around the home, can help make a students' homework assignments easier, and also help stimulate greater interest in his work.

Every home should have a good dictionary and a concise, easy-to-understand encyclopedia can actually grow up with the youngster.

With all levels of education taking childrens interests into world history and geography, an atlas and possibly, an up-to-date globe are valuable learning tools, too.

Grade School Set Invades World Of High Fashion

From Blazers to Pinafores, Young Miss Has Wide Choice of Styles

Modified versions of haute couture in junior sizes has resulted in one of the most fashionable and varied collections of elementary school frocks in many a season.

Blazers, dyed-to-match separates, grey flannel and racoon collars, all with a collegiate air, have been adapted to the size 6-14 set. The emblem marked blazers in white, vivid red, navy and grey, are worn with pleated skirts in matching or contrasting shades and crisp, white blouses. The racoon collars are seen on both heavy poplin and corduroy coats.

Middy Blouses

The perennial favorites of middy blouses, pleated skirts, jumpers and sailor dresses have been designed in colorful, carefree cottons and autumn shades of wool. Rows of rick rack, multi-colored braidings, white peter-pan collars, old coin buttons and elasticized, trimmed sleeves gives high-fashion detailing to many of the dresses.

Cotton broadcloth, rayon flannel, clan plaid wools and man-made fibers are used for the moppets' favorite costume, the jumper. Designers have placed button and zipper openings within easy reach of little girls' arms.

Bulky Sweaters

Stripes, plaids, checks and print designs have been selected for fall blouses. Many of the toppers, with short, puff sleeves or the long-cuffed versions, feature their own matching skirt.

Bulky knit cardigan sweaters to be used as fall wraps and later to be matched with wool skirts are found in hues of moss green, bone, warm browns and beige, the gold and red of autumn leaves and pastels. Many colors, previously seen only in fashions for the school girl's elders, have been copied for the younger set. Mauve, taupe and plum sweaters and skirts are shown for girls, not yet in their teens.

New Ideas

The Chanel influence has permeated down to the small fry's suit collection with braid-trimmed, loose-fitting cardigan jackets combined with slim or softly flaring skirts. Cuffed, silk blouses, featuring a large, single button, are added for dress-up occasions.

New ideas have appeared in the coat department with such sophisticated touches as the camel's hair polo coat, for touches at the collar and cuffs and a young version of the Chesterfield. Tweed coats with matching herets, trench coats for stormy skies and fake fur linings are among the new items.

Popular Pinafores

Bicycle coats are fashioned from fine-wale corduroy or water-repellent poplin and are worn with tanned pants or slim-legged slacks.

Last year's fashion discovery, the leotard, has gained full support from the grade school crowd. Red and black, the most popular colors, are worn with everything from Provincial-print cotton frocks to Bermuda shorts for Saturday play-days.

Reversible pinafores in plain and geometric print and corduroys give added variety

It's Rope Skipping Time and time to enjoy the fun of a reversible jumper made by back-to-school stylists in quilted cotton corduroy with a square neck and side laces for a perfect fit. In solid red or royal blue, the other side is a pattern harmonizing with the plain color. Both sides feature white buttons and the companion cotton blouse is white with matching print cuffs, string tie and piping on the collar.

Watch Is Important Back to School Gift

One of the most popular back-to-school gifts for either girls or boys is a watch, according to a recent survey made by the jewelry industry council.

This same round-up reveals highlights of features that teenage girls and boys expect to find in the jeweled-lever watch.

The younger teenage girl prefers a watch of simple appearance in a neat round or square shape, that can be worn with a sturdy, but narrow gold or gold-filled expansion bracelet.

More Sophisticated
For the girl of sixteen and over, preferences indicate that a slightly more sophisticated type of gold or gold-filled watch is wanted — but still small and trim in design.

Matching metal expansion bands of gold or gold-filled or colored leather bands are equally popular.

The younger teenage boy wants a sturdy watch, but he wants it to be slim and attractive.

Dressy Watch

The older boy, sixteen and over, follows the preferences of younger men on watches, both with respect to appearance and inner construction.

He wants a jeweled-movement watch that is wafer thin in appearance and also water and shock resistant. In short, he wants a dress-up watch that can stay dressed up in look and still lead a rugged life.

Good Luggage Points Up Smart Looks

Since the luggage the freshman lad takes to college is in for a lot of hard knocks, it's a good investment to buy a set that'll stand rugged wear.

Leather is ideal for hand luggage because of its distinctive appearance and because, in its manufacture, leather is subjected to rigid pressure and puncture tests.

A bag of rugged, mellow leather is traditionally endowed with a certain masculine quality. The male who loudly denies any charges of vanity will generally drop the disinterested pose when it comes to selecting a piece of luggage.

Needs Suiter

The college man will need a suiter bag to hold one to four suits and accessories, and a companion bag.

Shiny black is a new luggage leather color, but the familiar ginger or lighter sun-tan is always good.

Natural pigskin is another college favorite, along with the new brushed leather.

Leather luggage also is easier to pack — because of its flexibility, there's always room for that extra "last-minute" item.

In packing, all odd-shaped things, shoes, cases, and so forth, should be put on the bottom and spaces between filled in with soft, crushable items such as socks. Then put suits on top. This gives you the full length and width of the suitcase for garments and prevents creases.

initial on your towels and wash cloths. Then stitch trimming to the tracing, and you'll have an identification that is handwriting! Your towels will be personalized by your own real conversation pieces.

Healthy Feet Are Important

It has been found that, although parents are generally very conscientious about seeing that a child is in good health, can hear and see properly, they often neglect youngsters' feet.

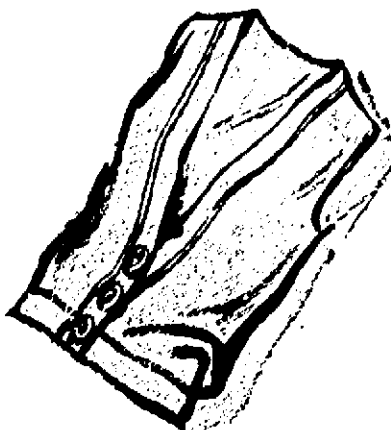

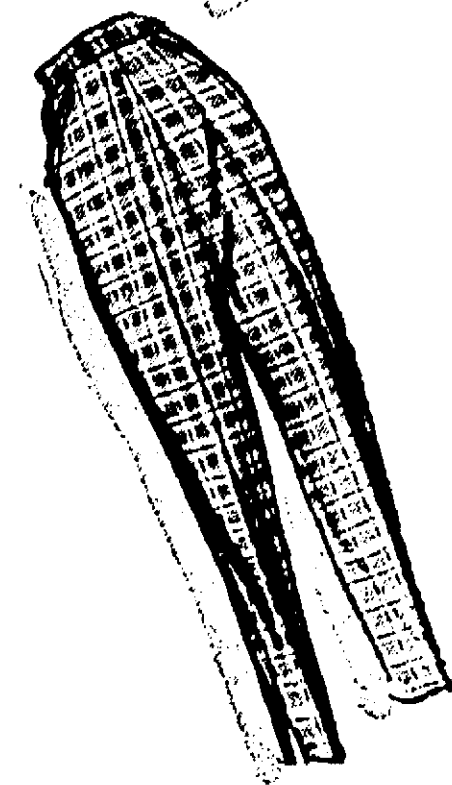

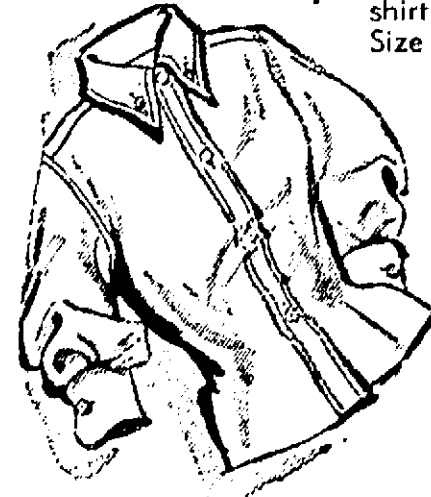

Statistics show more than 40 per cent of all grade school children suffer from ailments attributable to shoes they have outgrown.

Many of these ailments are minor but, with neglect, they can become so serious as to cause acute walking difficulty in later life.

Vet Sees Hike In State Cow TB Reactors

Says 582 Outagamie
Cattle React to Tuberculosis Tests

The number of cattle which react to bovine tuberculosis is on the increase in Wisconsin, but what the cause is, or what relation it may have to human beings still is an open question, Dr. Robert Madsen, state veterinarian, said Tuesday night.

Dr. Madsen addressed about 200 Fox Cities area Holstein breeders at the Geenen brothers farm, Freedom. The program was sponsored by the Outagamie county Holstein Breeders' association.

Total Up
Tests made by a team of veterinarians in Outagamie county during the last four weeks indicate an increasing number of cattle which react to TB tests, Madsen said. Of about 40,000 cattle tested up to last Saturday, 582 reacted, or about 1 1/2 per cent.

A test reaction doesn't always mean the cow has TB, Madsen said, but about 50 per cent of the Outagamie reactors have been branded and marked for destruction. A reaction can be caused by one of three things, Madsen explained — actual presence of TB, contact with human TB carriers, or with animal TB carriers.

Seek Answer
There is an apparent contradiction in the statistics gathered from TB tests, Madsen said. The number of reactors has risen, but the number of slaughtered cattle found to have TB hasn't increased. The answer to this problem is what state and federal agricultural experts are trying to find out.

Previous tests in Outagamie county have not been general enough to draw comparisons, Madsen remarked, but the county probably is following

Experts Say State Debts Wise Move

Nelson Gets Backing in Push for Constitutional Limits Change

Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson Tuesday won some academic backing for his campaign contention that the state pays too much interest on its building bonds.

A panel of finance experts, all of them state employees, told the state building commission that general obligation state bonds, sold under constitutional authority, would be more attractive to investors and could be marketed at substantially lower rates than the obligations of the quasi-public corporations now being issued.

The governor had hammered at the "dummy corporations" set up by preceding administrations for borrowing purposes. Although the courts have held that such devices do not transgress the anti-debt provision of the state constitution, the governor claimed such procedures are too costly.

Professors Speak

Gov. Nelson followed his presentation of a $22,000,000 building program with a discussion of financing methods. Members included Charles Jacobson, chairman of the state investment commission and Prof. H. G. Kraine and Prof. W. D. Knight of the University of Wisconsin.

The trio agreed that general state obligation bonds, with constitutional approval, could be marketed for about 3 1/2 per cent.

State building corporation bonds probably would be sold at 3.9 to 3.95 per cent. The last issue, under former Gov. Thomson, sold at an average of 3.87 per cent.

Better Demand

Prof. Kraine said not only would investors buy at a lower rate, but that investment bankers would market them at lower cost because of the better demand.

There was no discussion of the possible political complications involved and the historic resistance of the state to modifying its constitutional debt clause.

Prof. Knight referred obliquely to political considerations. When he was employed by Gov. Thomson to assist in marketing state building corporation issues, he concluded a rate of 4 per cent would be the payable limit. Beyond that, Knight said, the legislature might object to borrowing. He said he interpreted legislative sentiment from reactions of legislators serving on the building commission.

Gov. Nelson proposes to continue the dummy corporation device, saying the failure of the legislature to provide cash and the inability to get rid of the constitutional provision leaves him no alternative. He says he will press for legislative action at the fall sitting.

A $10,000 bond issue is proposed, to be sold before Jan. 1.

The commissioners and finance specialists discussed various marketing methods and their comparative advantages. Most of the bonds sold are in the portfolios of large insurance companies.

Main street, Seymour, a daughter; $8,000 to Mrs. Leone Droeger, San Diego, Calif., a daughter-in-law and $1,000 each to Miss Barbara and Stewart G. Droeger, San Diego, grandchildren. Maybe the Multitude of Foreign exchange students have influenced clothing. At any rate, smart looking young men this fall are experimenting with Continental styling in their wardrobes. This one has adopted Continental features such as the slightly cut-away jacket, slanting pockets, side vents and slim cuffless trousers in his outfit.

'Continental' Look Invades High School Boys' Fashion World

European Style Follows Natural Lines, Fabrics Lightweight, Nubby

Continental is the new fashion word invading the vocabulary of the well dressed high school boy. Returning to school this fall, young men will look for straight and narrow lines in their suits and slacks. The European silhouette follows the natural lines and emphasizes a long, lean look. Suit jackets are styled with three buttons and narrow lapels. The bottom of the jacket is curved and two diagonal pockets are placed just below the waist.

Long Slacks
Slacks this fall will be long and tapered with no pleats. Many of the models feature side tabs instead of belts. For school wear the slim Ivy league style is predominant. In grey or khaki it has a back buckle.

Warm Tweed
A warm tweed overcoat with an insulated lining is a must for cold winter evenings. Walking back and forth to school a lined poplin or wool school coat with attached hood is appropriate. The car coats feature toggle buttons and large patch pockets with leather stitching.

Accessories
Accessories for the young man include tie pins or tacks, and cuff links to be worn with narrow black stripes. Sport jackets in checks, narrow A wool plaid scarf fits the neck of an overcoat and a 6-foot long scarf striped with school colors is wrapped around the collar of a car coat.

Charlie Coins Phrases Freely in Column of Peoplechide, Picknasty

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Because the world is the way it is, the English language has fallen on mad times. In hundreds of cases we have no word to specify and identify. For that reason I offer up to the needy world a number of especially created words. You may have them. You are welcome.

Your neighbor's courting dog is a spoilfir, a fadegrass, a boneburrow. And if you don't like what he does, you're a crabgrass, or at least a spoilsport if you chase him, or else a dog-gone. If you merely scowl as he mutilates your acreage you're a scowl-scamp.

Also, there is a certain sort of person who seems to be at every cocktail party. When you are introduced to him with martini in hand, he grasps your other hand and shakes it with such enthusiasm that your drink is tossed to the walls, the ceiling and upon bystanders. For such a man there has been no adequately descriptive word. Until now, that is.

Such a man is a ginfing, a stormshake, a spraywall and an olive pitch. There is no doubt about him. He is a squirtsocial, a sprinkle-pig.

Must be Bosomjab

Do you like people who speak to you while you are backed helplessly in a corner and who keep jabbing you with their finger while they make their points? How can you specify such a person in the inadequacies of our language?

Isn't he a bosomjab or a chaffinger, or a thumpgossip? And if he adds to his sins by grasping your lapel while he talks, isn't he a graspehat? Or clingbird? Or if the villain is a lady, she must also be a grab-bag.

You have noticed the driver of the car in front word for him—except swish-digit, pinkyjut, pinkyjut, or drinkypink?

People who gossip are ordinarily identified with the single, uncolorful word "gossip" but it implies women and excludes men. Worst sort of man I can think of is a tumblefact, a chatteread, a whispersneak, a chanthallow, an echomonger, a poofparrot, a slingfault.

Tooting Lifeguard

One of my perpetual objections to the multitudinous rules of municipal swimming pools and the whistle-tooting shrieks can hal you in the middle of a dive while you wonder what you did wrong now.

For such a lifeguard who is required to insist upon obedience to all the rules, I suggest these terms: Whistlestop, shriekfinger, foilfun, scare-child, tanblow, shakefinger, blasthow and a musel-mustn't.

In many offices there is always a fellow who passes the hat for his latest purpose (Edna's birthday, Alice's baby, Herh's second wedding anniversary, the death of the office cat, etc.), there is no adequately descriptive word.

I suggest these: plunder-purse, poolpenny, nicklepick, wreckcheck, penny-auntie, hatpush, poolheart and hotpot.

For laundry which sends your shirts and your clothes back to you with wrinkles, frays, spots and removed but-

Woman Complains About 'Southern Hospitality'

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I was born and reared in the east and felt uprooted when I married Steve and moved to his native New Orleans three months ago. Steve is an executive with a big firm. The company's annual picnic was an eye-opening experience. One expects informality at an outing but in my opinion there was entirely too much "southern hospitality" between the office girls and their bosses. I said nothing for fear Steve would think me a nagger or, worse yet, jealous. But I'd like your opinion on the following:

I was behind a tree, hidden from view. This voluptuous blond saw my husband but not me. She ran toward him, threw her arms around his neck and sighed, "I always wondered what you'd look like in a T-shirt, Sugar Lump." I said nothing but I've been burning a little ever since. What would you have done, Ann Landers? — Speechless

Dear Speechless: I would have stepped out from behind the tree, extended my hand, and in a honey-dripping voice said "How do you do — I'm Mrs. Lump!" star dash

DEAR ANN: I'm a young woman who works for a drug chain a few blocks from the newspaper that prints your column.

A young man who works for this paper has dated me a few times. Last evening something happened which made me angry. I wasn't ready when he arrived so I asked him to make himself comfortable.

When I entered the room I noticed him snooping around the papers on my desk. There were letters, bills, bank statements and the usual junk.

I was annoyed and told him he was ill-mannered. He attacked me on the defensive weaving, quilling, toys. In the by saying his training as a newspaper reporter was so in-grained that snooping was cut-out doll, clothes to color, second nature. He claims a good reporter examines everything. Do I owe him an apology? — Ann Fan newspaper reporter is a gentleman, too. He doesn't need to snoop to get his story. The B-movie version of how a newspaper reporter behaves went out with sleeve-garters.

DEAR ANN: When I graduated from high school I was voted the handsomest boy in the senior class. I was always able to go with any girl I wanted — so long as I kept my shirt on. When I removed my shirt I looked like a grizzly bear. I have an abnormal amount of hair on my back — far more than most men have on their chests.

I've been married eight years and have never known complete happiness because of my handicap. Our daughter is almost seven now and my wife is constantly checking her back to see if she's going to be a freak like her father.

Instead of becoming accustomed to it, I get more miserable as time goes on. Should I see a psychiatrist? — Grizzly

Dear Grizzly: If your year-round raccoon coat is making you "more miserable as time goes on," see a dermatologist. A specialist in this field can remove unwanted hair scientifically. It will cost money and take time, but since your mental health is involved, it would be worth it.

Liz Picks Peekaboo Knee Look of Dior

BY NADEANE WALKER

Paris — Elizabeth Taylor goes for the new peekaboo-knees look at the House of Dior.

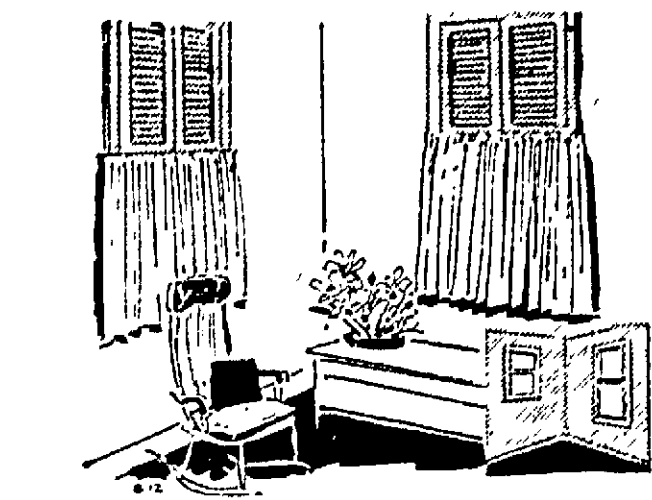

The American movie star has just bought 10 models from the collection designed by Yves Saint Laurent. At least four are the short hobble-hemmed styles, the shock numbers of this year's fall fashion showings in Paris.

Will Liz actually show her kneecaps like the Dior mannequins? A spokesman for the fashion house said, "The customer always decides the length she likes at fittings, so we don't know yet. But we have the impression she likes them short."

Match Long and Short Windows

With shutters and short curtains, it's easy to make windows in two lengths look as if they were the same size. This combination for Mrs. D.D.'s windows will also help to create appropriate style for her bedroom, which she describes as full of old-fashioned furniture, with a rocker and a blanket chest in the corner where the windows are. "Sheer tie-back curtains were all right until we moved," she writes, "but more wall under one window than the other shows through them in my new bedroom, and I'd like to correct this and to control the stronger light."

Never mind how much difference there is in wall measurements below the windows. Mrs. D. Use a heavy curtain fabric that filters in light but can't be seen through for the bottoms of the windows and make them the same length from the floor. The curtain on the longer window can be opened if need be, and open shutters at the tops of the windows will let in the best light, which comes from above, whenever you want it.

Mrs. W.J.B. "There's too much green in my house and I'd like to make changes without too much expense. The best place to start is probably with the walls in the hall and the dining room, which are now the green of the living room walls. There should be some follow-through from the living room since the hall is partly in view there and is also glimpsed from the dining room, but if I paint the hall and dining room walls gold from the living room scheme, wouldn't there be too much of that color? What do you advise? Also, what colors should I use for dining room curtains and chair seats? I must keep the green dining room rug."

Learn the furniture refinishing tricks that make old pieces new—send for Elizabeth Hillyer's booklet Furniture Refinishing—How to Do It Yourself. Address Miss Hillyer at this newspaper and enclose 15 cents, please, with a stamped self-addressed envelope. Please allow approximately 3 weeks for mail delivery.

Situation Should be Explained

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Occasionally, my husband has to work on a Sunday, and when he does, we have our dinner when he comes home which is about 4:30. Last Sunday (which happened to be my husband's Sunday to work) some friends of ours from a neighboring town drove over to see us after their dinner and stayed the afternoon. When my husband came home, I didn't know what to do about getting dinner since there wasn't enough to ask them to stay and it didn't seem right to leave them sitting in the living room alone while we had our dinner, so we just sat and talked and as a result we didn't have anything to eat until late that evening. Will you please tell me how I could tactfully have handled this situation?

Answer: I think you should have taken the situation naturally and frankly and said, "John and I have dinner at a very strange hour when he has to work and I must go and get it ready now. I'm sorry that I can't ask you to join us but it happens that we have very little in the house today. I can gladly offer you a cup of coffee and I'm sorry that this is the best I can do." There's nothing rude about this and I think they would be greatly disturbed should they find out that you and your husband went hungry on their account.

Introductory Letters

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter's husband has just been transferred to the West Coast and she is going out there to live. Some of our friends and acquaintances have given her letters to their friends on the Coast. Exactly what does she do with these letters?

Answer: She mails the letters when she arrives on the Coast and the people who receive them are expected to go to see her and show her some hospitality, or at least what courtesies they can.

Gift to Bereaved

Dear Mrs. Post: When a box of candy is sent to a bereaved family, should it be gift wrapped, or just wrapped in plain paper?

Answer: Plain paper is in better taste.

Mrs. Post offers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-4, entitled, "Wedding Expenses," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

More Women Prefer Ranch Style Homes, Survey Concludes

Ranch style homes have a slight edge in favorite building designs as rated by American homemakers. The same women would also purchase a home that is larger than their present house.

These are conclusions drawn from a survey of 100 homemakers attending a national Congress on Better Living in Washington, D.C. Fifty-three per cent were suburbanites, one-third were city dwellers and 14 per cent were farmers' wives. Each woman represented the pace setters in her home community.

More than one-third of the women cast their vote for the ranch home, with slightly less desiring a house in Colonial design. The balance chose either a modern or contemporary style—but most admitted preferences are often colored by a "living" reason rather than any appreciation of certain design principles.

"Better living," to the assembly, means a larger house—at least three bedrooms or two plus a dual purpose room. The women want direct access from the living area of the house to the children's outdoor play area. They count one full and one half-bath as the essential minimum.

Smooth-functioning household operation was also a primary aim. The homemakers want a colorful, efficient kitchen, with built-in appliances placed for convenience. They prefer a planned laundry space, on the first floor with half of them wishing it near the bedroom-bathroom area.

Family Needs

Strong personal and family-centered needs motivated the women's choices. Influences included: the need for privacy for both themselves and other family members, the need for household conveniences that free them from domestic duties and a desire for gracious living.

While price restricted home choice, the women agreed that their dream house was one with quality—a quality of thought in planning and carrying out plans.

The dream quality home would be "at home" in its setting with an inherent sense of order and beauty of design because structural proportions are right. This design would be enhanced by building materials and exterior style.

The interior would reflect the essential purpose of a house—to make a home for a family. This would mean adequate space, desirable traffic patterns, flexible and roomy storage facilities and functional heating, lighting and sound control.

A Buffet Supper Preceding Saturday evening's Attic Theater performance of "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" was given by Charles Kolb, left, at his home, 502 E. Pacific street. The event honored Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lindbloom, newcomers to Appleton, who also are shown, and Miss Margaret Kimball, who recently returned to Appleton from California.

Affection, Fresh Air Prescribed To Curb Juvenile Delinquency

AP NEWSFEATURES

Affection, good food, fresh air and plenty to do. This is Dr. Randle Elliott's prescription for curing any case of incipient juvenile delinquency.

Dr. Elliott is executive director of the Greer school, a children's community at Hope Farm, in Dutchess county, N. Y., supported by philanthropic gifts and maintained for the benefit of orphans and children from broken homes. Young, tweedy and good looking, he is assisted by his equally attractive wife in the supervision of 200 children, aged 6 to 18.

"These children come to us starved in both body and heart," says Dr. Elliott. "A few weeks of nourishing food and loving care usually turn them into healthy, happy, well-behaved youngsters."

Cottage Living

Children at Greer school live in eight separate cottages, each run by a make-believe mother and father. Meals are served family-style and everything is planned to simulate, as nearly as possible, normal family life. Except for the youngest children, girls and boys live in separate cottages.

"We have very little girl-boy trouble," says Dr. Elliott. "For the older children there are regular parties and dances—some sort of event planned for every weekend. Then boys and girls work together in many of the hobby and recreation clubs, such as dramatics and glee club."

Visit Any Hour

Dr. Elliott is a former instructor at Harvard, spent some time with the state department in Washington, was general reports officer for Gen. Clay during the war and worked for a time as London correspondent for a publisher of books and business magazines. His wife formerly was dean of women at the University of Delaware.

"We have never been happier than during our years at the Greer school," says he. "All 200 boys and girls at the school feel free to visit our house at almost any hour, and this might seem distracting to some people. But we love it."

We have no children or our own, so it's nice to have 200 that are almost like our own. At least we are never lonely."

The Greer school was founded in 1907 at the request of children's court judges in New York state, to fill a long-felt need. Situated on 1,500 wooded acres, it is set up like a village, and, as Hope farm, has its own post office, fire station and chapel.

"Every child gets an allowance of 60 cents a month up to the age of 14," says Dr. Elliott. "After 14 they earn their own money at various assigned duties. If a child commit some degradation such as breaking a window, he must pay for it out of his allowance. But he can do extra work to help pay his debt sooner."

Each of the dormitory cottages is supervised by a man and wife, and, in addition, teachers also live in each of the cottages. Each has a fireplace and a television set. All the children rise at 6:30 a.m. The younger children must be in bed by 7:30 p.m., the older ones by 10 p.m.

"When signs of delinquency develop," says Dr. Elliott, "we try to find out what is making the boy or girl unhappy, and then we talk the whole thing over. Almost always it works."

List Ideas to Convert Pantry Into Useful Room

Chances are you don't need that pantry!

In the days when cabinet and storage planning were in their infancy, a pantry was a mighty handy place indeed. But today factory-made cabinets, combined with compact, automatic appliances make the immediate work area of the kitchen the best place for storage and food preparation.

So, what to do with your pantry? Here are some suggestions:

Utility Room

1. Convert it into a general utility room. Cut away a countertop and install your washing machine and dryer. Store tools, household cleaning items, mops, brooms, dusters and the like. In any case, surface the floors and counters with a durable material like tile which can take the roughest wear.

2. A dining nook. This could serve for informal after-theater snacks, for family breakfast, or the children's after-school party.

3. Indoor greenhouse. Enlarge the window area of the pantry, surface counters with scratchproof, waterproof tile, store your garden tools, and you have a wonderful place for planting, repotting, growing and flower arranging.

4. Housewife's office. With the many activities today's woman has to handle, office space is really necessary. Recipe files, homemaking ideas, budgeting facts, the week's schedule can all be assembled and kept in order in a "pantry office."

5. Small workshop or hobby center. Again a durable material should be used. Father can take care of minor household repairs and the children can pursue their favorite hobbies in such a room, and still be within friendly distance of kitchen activities.

detail, the pattern consists of only six pieces and is, therefore, very easy to make. The tucking which widens at the bottom releases soft pleats for the graceful skirt. The high neckline with its slight V extends around the back into a collar. Make it in a surfaced lightweight wool for daytime or in crepe, shantung or taffeta for dress wear. From this size chart select the one size best for you.

White House Cancels Social Calendar

Washington—(AP)—The White House has canceled its formal social affairs for the 1959-60 season because of a "heavy international schedule this fall and winter" for President Eisenhower.

The president previously had cut down on the state dinners and white house receptions. Last year there were only five state dinners, held traditionally for high government officials and diplomats.

But there still will be official White House entertainment for foreign dignitaries, making state visits. Among such visitors already scheduled are President Sekou Toure of Guinea, Prime Minister Antonio Segni of Italy and probably Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffree, Mrs. Eisenhower's secretary who announced the cancellations, said these would provide an opportunity to include diplomats and others among the guests.

The president's official entertainments, long at the top of Washington's social events, customarily included six state dinners and five receptions with as many as 2,000 guests.

4 American Sailors Perish in Typhoon

Yokosuka, Japan—(AP)—Heavy seas generated by Typhoon Ellen caused the death of four sailors on the U.S. Navy's attack transport Bexar, the navy announced Tuesday.

The navy said the 455-foot-long Bexar was en route to Okinawa Sunday when a huge wave broke over her bow, washing two men overboard and knocking seven others against the anchor windlass and a bulwark. Two of the latter died of their injuries.

Another crewman rescued one of the two men overboard,

A probe into the tragedy was opened at sea aboard the carrier Lexington by a board headed by Rear Adm. W. E. Gentner, commander of Carrier Division 7.

Trunk BB (Prospect avenue), supervisors decided Tuesday. The board approved a highway committee report recommending no immediate action.

The city asked supervisors to put the Ballard road job into the works for 1961. The highway committee wants to discuss construction plans with the city and specified no action until the 1961 or later budget.

The city wants the beltline road to begin at the present termination of County Trunk A at Wisconsin avenue and run nearly straight south to perhaps tie into Perkins street, serving the city's industrial tract.

The county committee said it wants to wait for the regional planning agency's report to learn more of the details of the proposed road.

Fall Shoe Fashions Will be Lightweight

Back-to-School Styles Vary, With Wide Range of Colors

The youngster in new leather boots will stride back to school this fall with a new sense of adventure even if he doesn't cover seven leagues at each step.

Bright and fashionable, light and comfortable, boots of brushed, smooth and grained leathers are the newest shoe favorite of the younger set. A fall press show featured widely varied shoe styles in the new lightweight leathers and brilliant autumn colors.

Schoolgirls will take delight in glove-soft and suede leather boots high cuffed and daintily set on lightweight but sturdy leather soles. For additional warmth and color, many girls' boots are lined with colored shearling that spills over when the cuff is turned. Available in a full range of fresh leather tones—bright reds, handsome greens, beautiful browns — the new boot fashions underline tweed skirts, colored sweaters and textured leotards worn to class this year.

Chukkas Popular

The future spaceman will keep his feet on the ground in a pair of new chukkas, semi-chukkas or mid-calf boots. He'll cover territory — at school or on the playground — in hard-wearing brushed leather boots in man-colors: loden green, desert tan and charcoal gray. For dressier occasions, he wears a finely grained or polished leather chukka in brown or black. The junior miss will find her all-leather oxford, basic shoe of every young wardrobe, restyled this season — from the lightweight, flexible leather sole with new weatherproof finish to colored eyelets and fancy ghillie ties. Red, navy and black oxfords are piped in white leather for eye appeal, while colored saddles have been criss-crossed with white stitching. Contrasting leathers are used effectively — the saddle in suede and the upper in smooth leather, or the other way 'round. For dress, the oxford can be found with tapered toe and open, two-eyelet saddle.

Toes will hold the floor at the first birthday party of the new term, when they're shod in a pair of the new flat-topped, oval-toed pumps. A little girl feels very grown-up when her new shoes are just like the pair her mother bought.

Tie Revived

The classic simplicity of girls' party shoes has been relieved by revival of the Theoe tie — a wide grosgrain ribbon that knots into a large bow — by use of contrasting crack-proof patent and suede leathers, and by the introduction of stacked leather and covered heels — some in a Queen Anne height. Straps are seen less frequently, though the swivel strap, shorter T-strap and the sabot-strap topped with self-leather bows are still quite popular. Vamp insets, decorations and laces from tip-toe to throat add unusual style touches.

For fancy footwear on the ball field or at a boy-girl party, a fellow needs the right shoes. He gets an assist this year from new style departures — many resembling Dad's new shoes — lightweight leathers and flexible construction. When shoes are leather throughout — uppers, soles, welts and linings — they hold their shape and wear longer, giving full value for the money. The leather welt, a hidden part of the shoe, joins the soles and the uppers to provide leather's controlled elasticity during walking and assuring that the shoe will resume its original shape at rest. Leather linings stay smooth, protecting young feet from chafing, irritation and blisters.

Tapered and squared toes, single and double swirls, inverted seams, and vamp insets of different leathers and colors are fashion leaders in young men's footwear. A new color range, "true brown" (with a hint of green), has been introduced and a new effect has been obtained by using black vamp insets, laces and edging on brown shoes.

Teach Eye Health

Teach your child proper eye health — to read and study only where light is good, to keep soiled hands away from their eyes; high school and college age students should be encouraged to plan their studies to avoid "burning the midnight oil."

Ready for inspection is the fall shoe lineup for at least one young miss. From left, a fine-napped black suede playshoe; a brushed leather boot in loden green with turn-over cuff and 2-eyelet tie; a gun metal gray flatie in silky suede leather; a black crushable leather school casual with a 5-eyelet tie; a new leather-soled white and red smooth leather saddle shoe; and another saddle shoe with contrasting upper. She's wearing black leather party shoes and holds a swivel-strap pump in deep wine red.

Opening lead:

King of clubs.

Great cooperative defense brought about the 2-trick defeat of this hand. Many will undoubtedly question West's pass of the opening 4-heart bid. To be truthful, there is not too much that West, a vulnerable player, could do. He might double but if his partner bid four spades, it might result in a major disaster. Five clubs is a complete shot in the dark and will not make even with East's fine support for clubs. Discretion got the upper hand over valor and West passed and led the king of clubs.

It does not take great defense to beat this hand one trick although a careless defender may find that South will make the hand against him. When the king of clubs was led, East carefully signalled with the deuce to command a switch. West was not one to argue with his partner and he thought about all the possibilities. It would be impossible for East to ask for a diamond switch if he had three diamonds headed by the king. In that case, East would always have control of the diamond suit. A spade switch looked like a possibility but if East had the ace of spades, West would have plenty of time to play spades when he got on lead with his ace of trumps. So, West played a small diamond and declarer played small from dummy. East won the king and played back a small club which South trumped. The jack of hearts was led now but West was not fooled. He took the ace and played from dummy and East ruffed. The defenders now waited for their spade trick to beat the hand two tricks. How did West know which player held the remaining diamond? Easy. Didn't South duck the

Campus Shoes For Fall Have 'High' Look

Vamps, Cuffs, Colors
Add Sparkle to Teens' Wardrobes

High fashion shoes for the high school crowd will rise higher and higher this fall—high vamps, high cuffs and high colors. Only heels will remain low in teen shoe styles.

The autumn '59-winter '60 campus styles feature value-priced brushed, sueded, smooth and grained leathers in a collection of casual, dress and school shoes that will twinkle on the graceful feet of America's teens—who buy more shoes than anybody.

Campus footwear this year proudly displays the boot influence. Top honors have been corralled by tapered toe cuffed boots which sometimes stop at the ankles but often ride higher. Turned over cuffs, discopper and rust accent solid lings. Pull-on styles and eltelized side lacings vie with center ties in popularity. These boots are styled for fun and frolic, not for sleet and rain.

The high vamp isn't limited to the boot. It can be found this year on the all-leather oxford, the perennial school shoe, as well as on dress-and-date shoes. One new dress-up patent leather pump has a big, perky ribbon half-way up the high throat. A high tongued slip-on with pointed toe and nailhead detail on vamp and tongue is another unusual new treatment.

The trim saddle oxford on its slim, flexible leather sole, has been restyled in two ways this year—the saddle has been elongated and swept back to the heel, and ties have become more important.

Flashy Tones

In some shoes, the three-eyeclet tie has been converted into a five-and six-eyeclet model running down to the toe. In others, the ghillie, elastic laces and tassle tie stand out. Contrasting smooth, grained and brushed leathers continue strong in saddle shoes.

Casuals in flashy tones—golden brown, gold, bright green—make colorful companions for fall plaid skirts and jackets. Off-beat mustard, copper and rust accent solid colored leotards, long slacks and ribbed knee highs. Black, particularly in brushed leather oxfords, is found in every girl's wardrobe.

Heels rise to the occasion. When it's just a hen party, they're low. Walking out on a date, though, usually means a Queen Anne or a one-inch squashed heel. Stacked leather heels are seen in virtually every height and shape. Of course, a Friday night dance or a formal class prom calls for a slender mid-heel pump.

The teen shoe silhouette remains pointed, or the largest part, with a renewed interest in squared toes and moccasins. Straps are few and far between, with the single strap most often used and a few T-straps in evidence.

Many Children Enjoy Changing Schools, Moving

While moving day may be a crisis for many youngsters because it breaks up friendships and disrupts their lives—it isn't so for many others, sociologist Raymond Payne has learned upon querying nine hundred Georgia junior-high and high school students.

Nine-tenths of this number had moved at least once, close to 40 per cent said moving was more desirable than always living in the same place. They felt that moving offered new adventures, contacts, and friendships.

Girls favored moving more often than boys, perhaps because girls usually are more socially mature and more confident of their ability to make new friends and adjust wherever they go.

Dr. Payne believes that, if parents point out beforehand the advantages of moving, the event will not be a crisis for a child, but will be anticipated with pleasure.

This College Miss is set for a stylish semester in new leather shoe fashions as she holds a black American calf flat. Other shoes surrounding her exhibit dress and casual styling. Front left, the flat is in olive green with white saddle stitching. Above that, from left, are a dark brown pump, another in two leather textures and colors, a calf flat in toasted muffin color, a boot-type compus shoe on a flat heel in bone-colored calf leather.

Mothers Should Know Facts on Vacuum Bottles

Mothers of school-bound children should know these facts about vacuum bottles.

The insulation that keeps liquid or food hot or cold is the partial vacuum between the glass walls.

In newer and better bottles, plastic or rubber stoppers have largely replaced the cork.

On most bottles the metal or plastic case can and should be removed. Unscrew at the shoulder, and wipe out the case occasionally.

Prewarming or prechilling the bottle with water helps maintain temperature for hours longer.

Use wide-mouth vacuum jars for solid foods.

Don't put carbonated beverages into a vacuum bottle. The gas builds pressure in the bottle and can cause it to break.

Store bottles open to keep it fresh.

GEENEN'S

Interchangeable With Each other is this group of camel-colored separates for fall. Fashioned of feather-weight fleece with a doeskin finish is the sheath jumper at the left. The scoop front is highlighted with double-breasted pearl buttons and the tapestry print blouse with burnished gold buttons harmonizes well in its camel and green combination. A front wrap swirl skirt is teamed with a sleeveless vestee in the center and a 2-way skirt of cream color is worn with the outfit. A pullover top with long sleeves and a matching turtle neck is matched with a straight skirt at the right.

Fall Fashions for Teens Show Liking for New Earthy Shades

Burlap Tones To Appear in All Clothing

Teenagers will march back to high school class rooms in a few weeks to learn the ABC's of algebra, biology and chemistry, but the ABC's of fall fashion are autumn colors, big furry collars and new fabrics.

Attired in new earthy autumn shades of antelope, ginger spice, porcelain blue, stone green, cranberry, and loden green, high schoolers will trek back to school, to peer through microscopes and cheer football games. The burlap tones will appear in everything from sporty car coats to dressy evening wear.

Two looks will be popular with the high school crowd this fall. The smooth, sleek style of dyed-to-match sweater and skirt sets will contrast sharply with the soft, bulky look of heavy imitation fur sweaters and large raccoon collars.

Knits and Weaves
Smooth knits and weaves will add up to neatly tailored fitted suits and jumpers, fur blend dressmaker sweaters, silk shirts, white embroidered cotton blouses, provincial print shirtwaists, and doeskin skirts.

The soft, bulky look will be divided between fabrics of wool and orlon, made into pleated skirts, wide wale corduroy double breasted car coats, blazer jackets, man-tailored shirts, foreign intrigue trench coats, and long tapered slacks and Bermudas.

Skirts and sweaters, the multipliers of the high school girl's wardrobe appear in new bulky knits and soft textured weaves. Bulky sweaters come in popcorn knits, tweedy blends, argyle plaids and pebble textures.

Two Lengths
Sweaters come in two lengths this fall—short, waist length and long, hip length. The dressmaker knits have 3-quarter length sleeves, jeweled necklines, or collars with button closures. The short styles are tucked into a full skirt, while the long ones are pulled down over straight skirts.

Muted, subdued shades and ingrained patterns will appear in the skirt wardrobe of the teenager. Camel, nut tones, pecan shell, golden amber, sapphire blue, and deep blue green will be popular skirt colors in butter-soft wide wale corduroys that are patterned and textured to resemble wool, herringbones, checks and wavy worsteds.

White has come out of summer hiding and appears in striking contrast to the usual tones of fall fashions. Miracle fabrics that wash and wear or drip dry now make these white winter fashions as practical as they are pretty. A white wool flannel shirtwaist with an imitation fur belt is the perfect foil for a sun tan.

Smoking Jacket
The little smoking jacket, borrowed from the boys, tops plaid pleated skirts as well as dressy velvet outfits. The short, cropped jacket styled with wrist length sleeves is worn with a long sleeved shirt that has monogrammed French cuffs.

Slacks are long and tapered with side slits and button trim of a man-tailored shirt for walking ease. Bermuda shorts worn by loyal team supporters with knee socks or leotards will be seen near football fields. Plaids and muted stripes will be featured in the sportswear.

Antique gold jewelry will be worn with sweaters, skirts and suits. Coin bracelets and medallions will pep up fall and winter wardrobes. A pin at the waist of a dress or on the collars

Unusual Treatment Is Given this kilt skirt of plaid wool in shades of grey with red and gold overplaid. A cotton broadcloth shirt complements the plaid tones.

Beatnik Look Is on Way Out

The beatnik look in the classroom is definitely on the way out. Many school authorities have taken it upon themselves to enforce good grooming, banning blue jeans, motorcycle jackets, open-necked shirts and other sloppy wearing apparel, declaring this un-restraint in dressing contributes to juvenile delinquency in looks and actions.

The clean up movement began in several eastern schools. Officials noticed immediate improvement in both boys' and girls' behavior when more appropriate school clothing was worn. The students seemed to take more pride in their appearance, and hence in themselves as individuals.

67,252 Use Pool

A total of 67,252 persons used the Erb park swimming pool from opening to Aug. 9, pool officials report.

Last week, 6,738 used the pool. Wednesday was the busiest day with 2,139. Income totaled $344.40.

Continental Shoe Look Good for Casual or Dress

Men's shoes take a larger share of the spotlight this fall. In addition to a whole new category of casual and dress boots, men's shoes have been revolutionized by the American Continental look. The rugged "more leather" look preferred by American men is now blended with the slim lines of European styles. A medium leather sole—light in weight and thick enough to give the foot plenty of shock absorption—is trimmed close to the shape of the tapered upper in the new styles.

Smooth and lightly grained leathers are heavily favored in the new elegant men's shoes for casual, business and formal wear. New "redless" shades of true brown are moving in on the black-shoe scene. Men's casual styles show a great variety of plain-toed, moc-front and even wing-tip slip-ons, as well as virile chukka boots in brushed, smooth and grained leathers.

Use Soda Solution

Clean out the school lunch box with a sponge or cloth dipped in a solution of three tablespoons of soda and a quart of water, to keep it sweet and odorless. Rinse and dry in the sun.

Herbert H. Helble, Appleton High school principal, will discuss "Unrest in South America" at the public school teachers' orientation meeting Aug. 28.

Helble spent his summer vacation visiting Venezuela and Cuba, where he had an opportunity to examine firsthand the results of the Cuban revolution.

Teachers also will hear Thomas Tunney, Jr., superintendent of the state school for girls at Oregon. He will speak on group therapy.

Orientation week for teachers is Aug. 26 to 31. School begins Sept. 1 on request of teachers, who were given the alternative of starting a week later.

Supt. of Schools John P. Mann explains that school will start earlier than usual in order to guarantee teachers will be able to enroll in summer school sessions next year. Some sessions start the second week in June.

Communists Seek Base of Operations in Caribbean

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

Havana—Cuba's communists have tried—and failed—to set up what they likely would consider an ideal situation for themselves in present circumstances. Banking on unwitting help from the United States, they now await a fresh opportunity.

To the communists' delight, there has been a basic misconception of what they are up to in Cuba, and this tends to deflect U.S. attention from their immediate aims.

The communists know — if many in the United States do not — that they are not strong enough to turn the island of Cuba into a red satellite.

What they seek is a base for red operations in the Caribbean and Latin America with complete freedom of action and communications.

Cuba thus would be extremely valuable as a lever for the communists in the Caribbean and Latin America with complete freedom of action and communications. Cuba thus would be extremely valuable as a lever for the communists in the Caribbean and Latin America with complete freedom of action and communications.

Cuba thus would be extremely valuable as a lever for the communists in the Caribbean and Latin America with complete freedom of action and communications. Cuba thus would be extremely valuable as a lever for the communists in the Caribbean and Latin America with complete freedom of action and communications.

Raul Castro, thin-lipped, fanatical 30-year-old brother of the premier.

The communists have penetrated the ranks of labor organizations. They are organized, disciplined and dangerous.

A "national unity" government would put the communists in a good position to provoke angry and ill-considered responses from the United States. These provide Latin American reds with what they need most: whipping boys as typical examples of "Yankee imperialism" trying to dictate to weaker countries.

Uncle Sam Target

There are few here who would accuse Castro himself of being communist. What seems to be happening is that clashes involving North Americans tend to push the regime into the position of standing somewhere between being not antagonistic and being downright sympathetic to the communist bloc.

The party plays expertly on inferiority complexes of weaker peoples to provoke the defiant attitude of the neglected child kicking its rich uncle in the shins. New revolutions need outside enemies.

and "Yankee imperialism" fills the bill.

From the moment he took over, Castro found himself pushed more and more into a defensive posture by criticism from the United States. Only recently has he given any indication he realizes the dangerous position into which the Cuban revolution is being maneuvered.

The following story is vouched for by a reliable source: Castro had been debating with advisers about Cuba's sugar crop and how to move it in the world market in the face of slumped price and demand. Somebody informed him how the United States protects Cuba from price fluctuations by buying a sugar quota above the world market. The United States is buying about 3 million long tons of Cuba's current 5.8 million-ton crop above the world price. Castro seemed stunned.

"Why," shouted the leader, "didn't somebody tell me about this before?"

Inexperience and amateurishness on the part of members of the regime help strengthen the communists. Numerically they are not as strong today as they were in the early days of Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship, when they got their first real foothold.

12,000 in Party

At present the card-carrying communists probably total about 12,000. Of these only a small number can be con-as transmitted by Juan Mari-nello, party president. Re-

The best weapons the United States could use with regard to Cuba are tact, patience and intelligent appraisal of the situation, to prevent what once was a hopeful-looking revolution from taking on an indelible red color.

The communists seek diligently to create and maintain in Cuba a climate basically hostile to the United States. They may succeed if uninformed and impatient elements in the United States tor-

City Crews Fix Eroded Sections Of Wisconsin Ave.

City crews have finished hot patching eroded sections of Wisconsin avenue between N. Bennett and W. Mason streets. The work was done as a temporary measure, Director of Public Works Edwin Dus-was installed by the state about eight years ago and has deteriorated badly since then, he pointed out. The repaired section is one of the highest priority streets selected for state repair by the city council. The council has asked the state highway commission to asphalt cover the stretch next summer. The situation was so bad it couldn't wait, Duszynski said.

Teens Favor Wallets As Big as Handbags

All over the country, teenagers are in favor of oversized wallets which actually hold as much as a handbag. Tucked in a pocket, notebook or knitting box, they are stuffed with everything from photographs to jewelry.

One such wallet has a pass-case which contains an accordion-style arrangement for pictures instead of the customary windows; open the snap, and "a long stream" of pictures unfolds! A new elongated French purse has two pockets — one for currency, the other for cosmetics. A zipper section holds keys, money, pictures and identification. Shaped like a small paper bag, a new style can be folded in half, or used like a poke. An outside coin purse eliminates fumbling. Expandable Tab Most convenient is the wallet with an expandable tab, no matter how jam-packed it gets—the billfold never pops open because hidden elastic adjusts to the proper size. Bags are growing up even for youngsters. Many big bags have added an outside pocket for hard-to-find-in-a-hurry items like keys and bus fare. Leather's Popular Patent leather, black suede, kid leather, antiqued and luster-toned calfskins, and dark-glossy shades which correlate with gray flannel skirts and tweed suits are all bagged for back-to-school this fall! Up-to-the-minute and personalized accessories are the most welcomed accessories to the young girls.

Kaukauna Assessment Cut $12,385 Due to Loss in Personal Property

Assessor's Figures Show City Assessed At $22,773,640

Kaukauna—Despite an increase in assessed valuation of land and improvements in city for 1959, the total assessed valuation dipped from $22,786,025 to $22,773,640 due to a loss in personal property. Decrease amounted to $12,385.

Major reason for the decrease in personal property assessment, according to Assessor Luthar Kemp, is the state ruling which exempts products marked for out of state shipment from taxation. Party Planned for Boys in Recreation Ball Programs

Kaukauna — Plans are underway for a party for all boys participating in recreation department sponsored baseball and softball leagues this summer, the affair tentatively scheduled Aug. 19 at LaFollette park.

It is being arranged by the Kaukauna Athletic club through the cooperation of businesses, industries and organizations which sponsored teams. In previous years, one or two sponsors held parties for individual team members while many boys went unwarded for participation.

The Athletic club felt one party for all boys would help encourage future participation in athletic events. About 600 youngsters are expected to attend. Off duty firemen, policemen and recreation department personnel will supervise the affair.

Plans call for hot dogs, ice cream and pop to be served. Games will be played, contests held and prizes awarded. Autographed baseballs are being sent the Athletic club by the White Sox and Braves for distribution as prizes. The party is open to all youngsters, midgets through senior league players.

It is hoped additional entertainment can be lined up. All sponsors are being contacted for donations which will be made payable to the Kaukauna recreation department. All money collected will be used for the party, food, refreshments, Dave Lust of Forest Hills, 7-3, or prizes.

Freedom from LAXATIVE DRUGS

If you are doing yourself with harsh laxative drugs, it will be welcome news that there is a safe way to fight constipation due to lack of bulk in your diet.

You can correct this kind of irregularity by eating a half-cup of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk each day. Bran, you know, is nature's best bulk-forming food and Kellogg's All-Bran is whole bran. Even a small amount gives you all the bulk needed for youthful, natural regularity.

Millions stay on schedule this appetizing good-food way. Try Kellogg's All-Bran for 10 days and see if it doesn't work for you, too.

POST-CRESCENT News of the Twin Cities Menasha - Neenah

Predict Job Total In Twin Cities to Stay Above 1958

Seasonal Gain More Than Expected; Fall Outlook Good

PREDICT JOB TOTAL 236 NEENAH W 5H Deck seasonal—Neenah — Four major points noted by the Wisconsin State Employment service's bimonthly publication indicate more job opportunities in the Neenah-Menasha area will remain even after the summer.

In the new labor market letter, the WSES concludes this year's seasonal gains were double those expected and that the gains will be somewhat consolidated, with the employment level to be higher than early last fall.

After the June hiring rush, the news letter continues, worker demand leveled off while the available worker supply seems to be decreasing.

The WSES finds a seasonal upturn in employment always comes in this area from mid-May to mid-July. The gain in the 2-month period was 499, just about double the expected gain. Manufacturing absorbed 376 of the 499, 261 in paper industry firms.

The WSES letter said a total reduction of 186 workers is expected by mid-September in the 43 firms reporting in the area survey. Thus, a net gain of 313 jobs in the area is indicated.

Of the 186-job decrease, 70 per cent will be in manufacturing operations, the WSES expects.

"If this forecast materializes, it will also enhance the prospects of job seekers in late August and early September, since the proposed reduction is considerably below the number of students employed only for the summer months," the letter predicts.

More Students Hired Since more students were hired this summer than expected, the WSES predicts the need to hire for their replacements at entry level in manufacturing, at least, will continue strong late this month and early in September.

There is a continuing demand for men in professional and technical fields, especially for engineers and chemists and
graphers.

The worker supply increased at the end of the school year, but then began to decrease in a trend expected to continue for a few months. At the end of May, registrations of job seekers in the local office totaled about 600, jumped to more than 800 in the following month, then declined to about 700 at the end of July.

The figures were considerably below those of last year.

The 43 reporting firms employed 12,041 in July, including the 499-worker gain between mid-May and mid-July.

Appleton Motorist
Pleads Innocent to Two Driving Charges

Oshkosh — Kenneth D. Kett-ner, 20, of 500 E. Wisconsin avenue, Appleton, this morning in municipal court plead-preliminary hearing for 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Kettner, who posted $100 bond, was arrested at 4:30 a.m. today by sheriff's deputies, who claimed he was traveling 85 miles per hour in a 35-mile zone on County Trunk P in the town of Menasha and on S. Commercial street in Appleton.

Divorce Granted to Wife, Not Husband

Oshkosh — The divorce in the case of Charles S. Shepard, 35, Highland Park, Ill., former Neenah high school teacher, was granted to the wife, Janet L. Shepard, now of Milwaukee, in Winnebago county court Monday on her counterclaim of cruel and inhuman treatment. The original complaint, filed by the husband, was withdrawn at the trial Monday.

Ballots for the Annual community committeemen election of the Winnebago County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program were counted Friday for the 14 districts in the county. Counting the ballots are, left to right, Edwin Engel, route 1, Larsen; Gordon Lee, route 2, Berlin; Mrs. Meta Strade of the ASC office and Harvey Schnell, route 2, Oshkosh.

Blight Plant Samples Sent Out for Analysis

Mayor, Alderman
Check Possibility
Of Industry Cause

Neenah — Samples of plants hit by a blight in the Doty avenue - Church street section of the city last weekend have been sent to Madison for a careful analysis to determine the cause.

The samples were originally sent to Vernon Peroutky, Winnebago county agricultural agent. He in turn sent them to Madison.

Mayor Chester Bell and Ald.
Harold Young, at the direction of the health and welfare committee, visited the Bergstrom Paper company
Tuesday in an effort to check on rumors that the blight may have some industrial cause.

Conduct Inspection
H. R. Moore, vice president at Bergstrom, told the mayor and Young that the firm had received a call about the blight
Saturday and promptly began an inspection.

On the under side of leaves affected there appeared to be a type of fungus growth. This was not identifiable by the chemists. Some deep brown spots appeared on some of the leaves, indicating that the leaf was dead in that spot and had been hit a few days prior to the rest of the vine.

Mayor Bell said the matter
probably will not be cleared up until the report is issued from Madison.

Recreation Alleys To Open by Sept. 14

Menasha — The Menasha Recreation Bowling alleys will be in condition for bowling before Sept. 14, owner Ben Marcus assured Twin City klegers today.

Interested bowlers and leagues are to contact Vern Boyer at the Neenah theater after Aug. 21. He will be on vacation until then.

Alleys which need repair and conditioning will be fixed before the start of the league season. A complete remodeling job will be undertaken next spring.

School Board to Open Acoustical Work Bids

Neenah — The Neenah school board will open bids for acoustical work in the gymnasium at 4 p.m. Thursday, according to Harold B.
Mennes, school superintendent.

leaf was dead in that spot and to the rest of the vine.

Mayor Bell said the matter
probably will not be cleared up until the report is issued
from Madison.

Boys List Date Tips For Girls

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Are you popular with boys? If not, why not? Here are 20 tips to help you get along with the opposite sex, all pointers suggested by young men:

1. Save your gossip for hen parties. The boys are not interested, or so they say.
2. Dress to suit the occasion of the date. Overdressing embarrasses the boy as much as underdressing does.
3. Let him be a gentleman. If you open doors and put on your own coat to save him the trouble, you're being silly. A boy has much more respect for a girl who flatters his ego in that respect.
4. When you are with him, avoid talking about dates with other boys.

Boy Is Boss

5. Let your date make decisions about how you will spend the evening. If he insists on your assistance, then make a suggestion.
6. Avoid being too critical of others — your parents, teachers, neighbors. It may give the impression that you can't adjust to minor difficulties.
7. Give the young man the impression you've enjoyed your evening with him, unless he has been rude.
8. When out with boys, do not table hop.
9. Be sure to observe good table manners.
10. Stay with your escort at a dance. Don't act eager to dance with other boys, particularly those on the stag line.
11. If he forgets to bring you a corsage, don't spend the evening pouting. He'll have more respect for you if you ignore the omission even though every girl in the room wears one.
12. When he invites you into a restaurant for a snack on the spur of the moment, ask him to order something for you. He knows how far his wallet will go.
13. Modulate your voice. If you have a tendency to talk in a high pitch. Don't shout to passers-by or call to people from car or windows.

14. Be modest in conversation. If a boy is rude enough to tell you an off-color story, change the subject, pointedly.
15. It's a good idea to avoid being too competitive with men. When you play a game — golf, tennis or what have you, do your best but don't kill yourself to beat him.
16. Never break a date with a boy unless you have a very good reason. Above all, do not break a date with one boy because something better is suggested by another boy.
17. You don't have to be the best dressed girl on his date list, but make an effort to be the cleanest. It won't cost more than an expenditure of elbow grease.
18. Never call a boy on the telephone unless it is absolutely necessary.
19. Assume the boy is going to pay your way when he asks you out, and never offer to pay your share unless you made the suggestion at the time you made the date.
20. Do not try to lure a boy away from another girl deliberately. It puts you in the position of hunting the boy, very unsteady ground for romance.

Name Neenah Recreation Drama Cast

'Glass Menagerie' Called Williams'
'Most Delicate'

Neenah — The Neenah Recreation department today announced the cast of Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie," to be produced Thursday and Saturday in Riverside park pavilion.

Cast as Amanda, the neurotic mother, is Mrs. Richard Willis, whose previous appearances were in "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets," "The Man of Destiny," "The Boor" and others.

Richard Willis will play the son, who also is narrator of the play.

The crippled daughter, Laura, is portrayed by Mary Adershold, who has appeared in "Hello Out There" and "Ten Nights in a Barroom."

The gentleman caller, the only realistic character in the drama, is done by Joe Lewandowski. He has been in "Androcles and the Lion," "A Phoenix Too Frequent" and "Ah, Wilderness."

The play is Williams' most delicate work, according to critic John Gassner. It has been termed the climax to the post-war renaissance of theater with its reminiscence of the struggles of a small family trying to support itself in the depression of the 1930's.

Better Days

The husband and father of the Wingfield family left 16 years before. Amanda said he was "a telephone man who fell in love with long distance." She is a remnant of high Southern society, clinging to the memory of better days and ineffectually scheming to find a boy friend for her daughter who is painfully shy.

The son is a poetic dreamer with his father's love for roaming.

Ticket prices for the play are 85 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. They may be purchased at the recreation office, or at the pavilion on production nights.

Lakeview Trips Bergstrom's; Bonnack Hurls Hitless Game

Banta's Retains 'American' Lead; Strange's Cops 26-4

Menasha — Lakeview garnered its fifth straight victory in the National division of the Twin City Industrial Softball loop by besting Bergstrom Paper, 10-4, Tuesday night at Jefferson.

Co-highlight of the night's action was a no-hitter by Gilbert's George Bonnack in his team's 7-0 win over Main Office in the other National league encounter.

Banta's dusted off Wisconsin Tissue Mills, 15-2, to maintain its American division lead, while Strange Paper stayed just a half game off the Publishers' pace with a 26-4 bombardment of Menasha Woodmen Ware.

Gilbert's win moved it into second place in the National wheel. First place Lakeview is the only unbeaten squad in the 13-team, 2-division league. Lakeview led Bergstrom's 4-0 at the close of four frames.

and added three in the fifth and sixth. Bergstrom's made a run in the fifth and three in the sixth.

Adams Homers

Len Adams halted the losers on two hits, both by Ruf Ihde, and walked three. Lakeview made eight hits off Dan Haufe, who passed nine. Adams aided his cause with a bases-empty homer in the fifth. Bob Rost had two of the Lakeview safeties.

Bonnack's no-hitter was the second of the year in Industrial play, the first in the National league. Dick Wahlgren of Neenah Paper halted Tissue Mills without a bingle last June 9.

The veteran pitcher allowed three walks. Gilbert's made eight hits off loser Darrell Schultz.

Ross in 3-Hitter

The winners scored two runs in the first and five in the fourth. Fred Schmidt and Dick Demler paced the winners with two hits.

Bob Ross stopped Tissue Mills with three hits in Banta's easy win. The Publishers backed him up with a 15-hit attack, which featured two homers by Darold Eggert and one by Bert Preimesberger.

Eggert had a 2-run clout in the third and unloaded the bases for three runs worth in the sixth. Preimesberger's blow came with the bases clear. Banta's lead was only 3-2 after two innings but it exploded for seven runs in the third.

Eggert, Evan Wiechman, "Wimpy" Drum and Preimesberger all had two hits for Banta's. The three Tissue Mills hits were by a trio of players. Tony Brezinski was charged with the loss.

The Strange's - Wooden Ware game was called at the end of five innings by agreement. Strange's scored three times in the first inning, got 11 in the second and six in the fourth and fifth.

The Strange's attack of 18 hits, included a 3-run homer by winning pitcher Harry Huff in the fifth. Del Peterson led the way with four hits and six other players had two each. Jim Swentner made two of the four hits off Huff. Russ Wilke was the losing pitcher.

Miehle scored six runs in the first inning, added a string of four 2-run frames and closed with another 6-spot in the sixth.

Make Up League Slate

The Probable Starting Second baseman for the Menasha Macs in tonight's game against "Satchel" Paige and the Cuban All-Stars is Jim Haack, veteran infielder.

Macs Battle Cubans; Bid for 14th Victory

'Satchel' Paige Hurls for Foes; Plan Preliminary

Menasha — The Menasha Macs resume baseball hostilities with a contest against the Havana Cuban All-Stars, featuring LeRoy "Satchel" Paige at 8:15 tonight at the Menasha ball park.

The feature game will be preceded by a 7 p.m. preliminary, matching teams of all-star players chosen from the Junior Baseball league. The game's outstanding player will receive an award from the Macs.

The Menashans go into the fracas with a 13-5 record. They had 5-3 in first round Fox River Valley league play and are 4-0 in the second half. The record also shows 4-1 in exhibition play and a single loss in tournament competition.

The contest will be the first for the Macs since their 7-4 win over Freedom a week ago Sunday. Last Sunday's game at Little Chute was called off because of the latter's participation in the state semi-pro meet. It may be rescheduled as a night game at Kimberly next week.

The Cuban Stars, formerly the Havana Cuban Giants, are currently on their ninth coast-to-coast tour playing in the United States and Canada. Last year as the Giants, without Paige, they trimmed the Macs.

Gene Gries or Tom Balthazor is expected to hurl for the Macs. Paige usually pitches an inning or two for the Stars.

The winners made one in the second on Tom Kopitzke's single and Bill Tingley's double and they tied the score in the sixth on two walks and Losse's single.

Losse and Schwerin each had two hits to lead all swingers.

Catholics to Note Feast of Assumption

Menasha — St. Mary of the Assumption Catholic parish will observe its titular feast day Saturday, which is also a holy day of obligation for Catholics.

The feast day commemorates the entry into heaven of the Blessed Virgin Mary, body and soul, immediately after her death. A new mass of the feast was introduced Nov. 1, 1950, when the late Pope Plus XII proclaimed the assumption as a dogma, making it an article of Catholic faith.

Masses at St. Mary Saturday will be at 5, 6:10, 7:15, 8:30 and 10:15 a.m. and 5 p.m. Confessions Friday will be heard from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

New Books at Library

Nixon, McCarthy Analyzed By Authors Mazo, Rovere

Menasha — A political and personal portrait of Vice President Richard Nixon is now available at Elisha D. Smith public library. Earl Mazo's "Richard Nixon" is an attempt by a political journalist to present an intimate, impartial study of one of the most feared, admired, mistrusted, misunderstood and powerful men in the history of American government.

Anyone concerned with American politics to 1960 — and beyond — will find this indispensable and absorbing reading.

Another political biography — of the man who was probably the most controversial figure of our time — is "Sena-ior Joe McCarthy" by Richard Rovere. This book attempts an analysis of McCarthy's character and motivations. It is also a fascinating commentary on the American scene, remarkable throughout for its insights into political and human behavior.

It is impossible to read Harry Golden's "For 2 Cents Plain" without enjoying it and admiring the wisdom, warm heart, and broad knowledge of the author. Golden's "Only in America" is still one of the best sellers in libraries.

The complete story of the "beats" — that hep, cool, frantic generation of new Bohemians who are turning the American scale of values inside out is told in Lawrence

Lipton's "The Holy Barbarians." Other new non-fiction this week includes two on animal life, "Kangaroos in the Kitchen" by Lorain D'Essen, which tells of collecting animals for use on TV programs, and a profusely illustrated book "The Beauty of Birds" by Cyril Newberry.

"Steps in Time" by Fred Astaire is a charming, informal self-portrait of the motion picture dancer. "Round the World With Famous Authors" contains excerpts from the writings of many authors coupled with some of the most beautiful colored pictures ever placed in a book.

How to DOUBLE your corn returns—without extra land

One acre of your corn can equal two when you own an Allis-Chalmers Forage Harvester. Here's how —

From one acre, quality silage cut on time with your own machine will produce twice as much beef gain as will ear corn (University of Illinois report).

Cut-and throw chopping action of 3-foot-wide cylinder on an Allis-Chalmers Forage Harvester gives you quality-cut forage... makes possible a light-running machine that chops extra tonnage without extra power.

Foreign Aid Helps India Build Giant Milk Processing Plant

New Delhi — With foreign help, the Indian government is completing a project to provide New Delhi with its first dependably pure fresh milk.

Milk is a luxury in India. Those who can afford it usually get milk from emaciated, sickly cows, diluted with impure water.

But to a devout Hindu, milk is nectar. It is one of the prime offerings to a deity. Nothing is said to please a departing soul more than a few spoonfuls of milk.

Processing Plant

The government is building a giant milk processing plant in the heart of New Delhi's industrial suburb. A system of cattle colonies is being established with a 50-mile radius of the city.

Sacred cows will continue to wander in Delhi's streets, but small, unsanitary private farms will be banned from the city.

Five countries are supplying money, experts and equipment for the first milk plant of its kind in India. More than half of the funds for the $4 million project came from New Zealand, through the Colombo plan. The experts and machinery have come from Britain, West Germany, Sweden and Denmark.

100,000 Gallons

The plant will turn out 100,000 gallons of milk a day. It will also produce ice cream, butter and the first powdered milk made in India.

The foreign experts hope to get the plant in production by mid-September.

Bottling and milk powder machines came from Britain, refrigeration from Germany, pasteurization and byproduct production from Sweden and the ice cream making from Denmark.

The three gigantic bottle washers are said to be the biggest east of the Suez. Each of these 18-ton units can clean 18,000 bottles an hour.

First of Kind

The ultra-high temperature pasteurization plant is the first of its kind in India. The 15,000-square-foot cold storage room to keep milk bottles at 38 degrees. Temperature is lined with 4-inch thick cork slabs and serviced by 12 giant coolers.

Ag Teacher Says An Animal Worth Showing Is Worth Showing Well

BY OLIVER LERUM
Supt. of Sheep and Swine

There is a lot of satisfaction to be had by a boy or girl doing a good job of showing sheep or swine at the county fair. Like anything else worth doing, it doesn't come easy to be a good showman. It takes work and practice. The Outagamie county fair will be at Seymour, July 15 to 19.

The job of the showman in the ring is to show his animal to the very best advantage. This job, however, starts before the animal even arrives at the fair. It starts with the selection of the animal and continues up through the feeding and care of the animal.

The showman must present his animal with the proper bloom and condition. As an artist molds his clay, the sheep showman must trim the fleece to bring out the desirable conformation. On both sheep and skin and hair on hogs.

The real test comes when the young showman enters the ring to complete his job by giving it a good show. The showman should be conscious of his own appearance in the show ring. He should be neat and act like a livestock man at all times. This means knowing how to handle the animal.

Judge and he judged could be the byword of the young livestock man who shows sheep or swine at a fair. To be able to bring home the ribbon, the animal must have the characteristics the judge is looking for.

There is more of an art in winning the top honors than the spectators around the sheep show rings might realize. Sheep, to the untrained eye, probably more than any other farm animal, tend to look alike. This is not the case, however, with the young sheepman.

Sheep Judging

In judging sheep, look for an animal with short, straight legs, set wide apart behind and in front; wide, deep body with smooth shoulders; straight, strong back with level rump; full twist and plump leg; pink skin and dense clean fleece and the finish animal carries over back and shoulders.

When the hog is judged, the points that are most important include length of the animal, smoothness over shoulder, width and muscling over top line especially the loin, depth and fullness of ham, trim, neat underline, trim jaw, straight strong legs, strong pasterns, neat appearing head and well placed ears.

If the young showman keeps these points in mind during selection, feeding and training, he stands a good chance of success in the show ring.

stock feed grains, and cotton. It went on to say that low or declining prices for farm products were in contrast to stable or rising cost of non-agricultural goods. The committee stressed the need for adjusting national farm policies and promote a better balance between supply and demand in international markets, and to correct growing differences in standards of living of various countries. The committee urged the establishment of national reserves of food as a protection against crop failure in vulnerable countries. It said there is need for interested governments to help provide these reserves and storage facilities for them.

Many Lives Saved by U. S. Aid and Rains

BY BERNARD DIEDERICH
Port au Prince, Haiti — Thousands of peasants on Haiti's parched northwest peninsula have been saved from starvation by heavy rains and six million pounds of U. S. surplus commodities.

A 4-month crash program that provided for about 150,000 drought victims was completed this week. U. S. distributors said it saved thousands of farmers and their families from certain death. The arrival of the rains ended a withering drought that has plagued the poverty stricken area for five years and brought at least 200 persons to death by starvation. The last real rain was in 1954, when Hurricane Hazel killed livestock and ravaged plantations.

When the United States launched its emergency aid program in April, the arid peninsula was a scene of desolation. Trees stood stark and lifeless. Even the weeds had withered. In the doorways of huts stood pot-bellied children with spider-thin legs and eyes haggard with hunger. The livestock had nothing but the points of acacia trees to lick on. Green mangoes were the sole food of many families. Tuberculosis, liver ailments and other disease were widespread.

Danger at End
Lester J. Gottlieb of the U. S. Operations Mission reported after traveling over the country for the last four months by foot, horse and jeep that the northwest peninsula is finally out of danger.

Shortly after the food distribution program began in April, the rains began to fall. It was found, however, that the starving farmers had eaten or sold all their seed. The United States rushed in 3,000 pounds of seed, and British Aid society contributed $2,800 to buy more.

Gottlieb says that three months of almost steady rain have brought the arid gardens back to life. Corn and beans are growing, and village market places are again humming with activity.

The crisis is not completely over, Haiti's agriculture department has set up a 3-month program to distribute food to peninsula families still in need.

Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Garst, Coon Rapids, Ia., discuss a proposed visit by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to their farm. Khrushchev, who entertained the Garsts in Russia recently, said he might visit the Iowa couple when he tours the U. S. next month.

Flexible Plan Results

Uncle Sam Loses Too When Farm Produce Supports are Lowered

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

Washington — When it lowers farm price supports, the government often takes a financial whipping on surpluses in its own warehouses and elevators.

This fact was shown in an agriculture department report giving the size of surpluses held by it and the prices paid for them.

Under the present administration's flexible price support system, there has been a broad lowering of supports in an effort to encourage more consumption of farm products and less production.

Wheat Price Slump

The report showed that the government held, as of Sept. 3, about 797 million bushels of wheat. This grain cost the department an average of $2.75 a bushel, including storage and handling costs. Much of this grain was acquired when price supports were much higher than at present.

This wheat cost compared with the present support rate of $1.82 and with average market prices of about $1.65.

The department had slightly more than one billion bushels of corn, costing an average of $1.80 a bushel. This compares with the present basic support rate of $1.36 a bushel and with market prices averaging about $1.18.

Similarly, the department has sizable stocks of grain sorghums, oats, rice, and dairy products which were acquired

Farm Bureau Director Attacks Marketing Act

But KasaKaitas Denies Saying That Bill Gives Farmers Too Much Power

TO PLAN IS TO SAVE

LAND BANK LOANS

Long range planning may mean the difference between a farm's full productive capacity or failure. To plan is to save... See your local National Farm Loan Association now.

Low Interest Rates

NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION

JIM SCHIESL

529 W. College Appleton

Madison — Recent publicity dealing with the agricultural marketing act is riddled with misrepresentations and half truths, according to William KasaKaitas, legislative director of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau.

"I would like to set the record straight. I never made the statement that 'this bill gives the farmers too much power.' I certainly did not make such an irresponsible statement," KasaKaitas emphasized.

Another Falsehood

"Statements have been made that the Wisconsin Red Cherry Growers association has lined up in support of the bill. This, too, is a falsehood. The president of this group—Harry Schuyler—has told us that the Wisconsin Red Cherry Growers association in no uncertain terms opposes the bill.

"The charge that we continuously oppose marketing order legislation is also untrue. Farm bureau helped frame the enabling marketing act of 1937 with the encouragement and help of the Potato Growers Association. This 1937 marketing order already has provisions for systems of grading, marketing, promotion, education and research.

Can Be Done

"The very things that proponents of this bill are arguing for can be done under present enabling marketing orders by fresh fruit and vegetable commodity groups," KasaKaitas added.

"To extend enabling marketing order legislation to such groups as dairying is to give false hope that this can solve farmers' problems," he added.

"Such is the case of dairying. We already have federal milk marketing orders. Farm bureau has supported such marketing orders, when groups located near milk markets have voted to use them."

"If such legislation exists on the federal level, state milk marketing orders add nothing substantial to what already exists," KasaKaitas said.

Lists Objections

"Farm bureau specifically objects, not to marketing agreements in themselves, but to provisions which bring about:

1. Controls on what farmers can sell.
2. Controls on what farmers can do with their products.
3. Controls on prices that products can sell for on the market.
4. Surplus-holding pools.

"Pools in themselves are not a market. Pools only help build up surpluses and thereby depress farm prices. This kind of thing has not worked nationally and there is no reason to believe it will work better on the state level," he said.

Roger Hacker, Route 1, Brillion, a member of the Forest Ever Ready 4-H club, will show this Ayrshire junior yearling heifer at the Calumet county fair at Chilton, Sept. 4 through 7. He plans to show the heifer at the State fair also.

Now Is Time To Get Rid Of Thistles

There are few good opportunities for this control. And so, when the opportunity presents itself, you should make the most of it. There is no better time to throw a knockout punch at thistles than in the infested stubble of canning peas, sweet corn, small grain which was not seeded down and field corn taken off early for silage.

Leave infested stubble undisturbed for several weeks following harvest. Then thistle regrowth will be vigorous, uniform and easily sprayed. Treat thistles when regrowth is eight inches or more in height.

Apply 2-4-D amine or ester at one pound acid equivalent per acre or amitol (amino triazole) at eight pounds of the 50 per cent preparation in 20 or more gallons of water.

Family Exhibits Feature '59 State Fair Program

Displays Include Water Resources, Foods, Fabrics, Home Landscaping

Wisconsin — Something for every member of the family will be featured in the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture building during the 1959 Wisconsin State fair, which opens its gates to thousands of exhibitors and viewers on Aug. 21 and runs through Aug. 30.

Five topics will highlight the exhibits in the university building says Dave Holden, exhibit chairman. For the men of the family, two categories will be of particular interest.

Water Resources

The first, on Wisconsin's water resources, will show the latest on water utilization and conservation. The other, a project on the planning and use of flowers and shrubs in home improvements will inspire new backyard creations.

Two displays should especially intrigue the ladies. Exhibits on foods from the standpoint of processing and packaging for public use will show the women of the home the latest in scientific techniques. The utilization and care of modern fabrics and fibers in clothing and other uses will also present the ladies with scores of fashionable and money-saving ideas.

Vocational Exhibits

The university will be considering the younger generation also, and will feature exhibits dealing with vocational guidance. This display will attempt to acquaint the young people with the career opportunities in agriculture and home economics. College work in these fields will be pointed out as valuable assets in achieving success in their chosen fields.

Claron Burnett of the university's agricultural journalism department will be in charge of planning, installing and caring for the exhibits.

Warming Trend

Chance of Real Insect Year Still Possible for Wisconsin

The combination of rain and cooler weather has undoubtedly interfered with the advance of some insect species but the renewal of lush plant growth and a warming trend may bring about what has been described as a real "insect year."

The warning was contained in the insect survey bulletin issued a few days ago by the Plant Industry division of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

In general, according to the bulletin, many insect species continue to present great problems.

Trouble Cows

The bulletin says that a peak mosquito emergence appears possible for many localities. The emergence will cause an increase in the number of cattle herds which mosquitoes keep from grazing.

Recent rains and winds, favoring grassy growth, present ideal conditions for localized armyworm outbreaks, according to the bulletin. A sharp lookout is advised for the next few days.

Corn Crop

Cutworm injuries to corn continue to be reported. Most of them come from the southern two tiers of counties with the exception of Washburn.

Pea aphids have been slow in building populations. In the southern half of pea acreage in the state the aphid problem is "spotty." In the northeast, some treatment has been applied.

Turnpikes Safest

Little Chute—John Klasyn, 77, of 720 N. Madison street, suffered a concussion and facial lacerations when he collapsed in the kitchen of his home about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by Larry's ambulance.

Fire Alarm Cable Bids Requested

Will Serve Huntley, St. Pius Schools For About $2,000

Bids for $2,000 of fire alarm cable were requested by the public safety committee Tuesday.

The committee decided to install traditional fire alarm systems in Huntley and St. Pius X schools.

The phone alarm system at Green Bay will be inspected by the committee within one or two weeks, it was decided. Fire Chief Paul Neumann said the Green Bay system cost $20,000 to install and operate for one year. The present Appleton system costs the salary of one maintenance man, or about $4,700 a year. Fred Volkman, electrical inspector, declared.

The committee decided to wait until a full report on the Green Bay system is available before making a recommendation on changing systems. Volkman said the present Appleton system is 90 per cent in excellent condition and would be good for 40 years.

Parking Bans
In other actions the committee recommended:
Placing parking bans during school hours on the west side of Elm street from Lawrence street south to the last private driveway in the block.

Installing two 15-foot street light poles at E. Marquette and E. Frances streets and Ballard road, provided Ald. Schumacher can get an easement to trench from the last power pole in the block to the street. Because the poles are adjacent to the airport, they cannot be any higher.

Accepting the $7,839 low bid of Mullen Electric company for ornamental street lighting for the College avenue bridge approaches.

Determining the specific complaint of 25 residents who petitioned to have truck traffic stopped on W. Brewster street from N. Mason to N. Douglas streets.

Installing three additional street lights on Telulah avenue between Fremont and Calumet streets.

Illegal Mufflers
Lawrence E. Kowalkowski, 29, of 1231 E. Frances street, and Douglas E. Hankwitz, 20, route 3, Fond du Lac, were fined $10 each in municipal court Tuesday for having illegal mufflers on their cars.

Paper Firms Add Oxygen To Fox River

Eight tons of dissolved oxygen are being added to the Fox River every day between Kimberly and Little Rapids through turbines specially modified for stream improvement by four pulp and paper mills, the Pulp and Paper Information service reported today.

This is over 20 per cent of the 38 tons of oxygen that state pollution authorities calculated would restore the Fox River to a satisfactory oxygen balance.

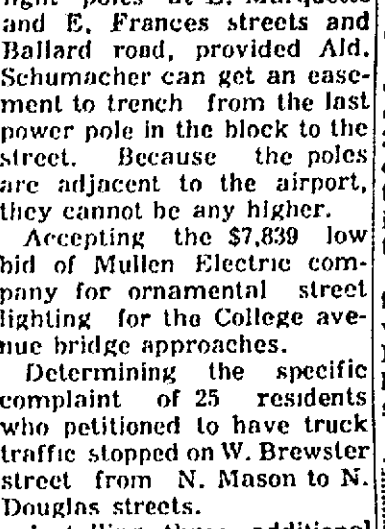

Turbine aeration is a newly-developed technique that has been experimentally tested and approved by Wisconsin pulp and paper industry researchers during the past three years to replace oxygen in streams whose oxygen content has fallen below desired levels. It has been used by several Wisconsin mills to supplement their programs for collecting and utilizing oxygen - consuming materials formerly discarded into rivers. Authorities expect it will be adopted at more power plants on streams where higher proportions of dissolved oxygen are needed.

Mills currently utilizing turbine aeration on the lower Fox are Charmin Paper Products company, Little Rapids; Combined Locks Paper company, Combined Locks; Kimberly-Clark corporation, Kimberly; and Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, Kaukauna.

October End For Federal Road Funds

No New Contracts Let Until Congress Provides Money

Highway commissioners and committee members today heard that federal funds may end for road construction about October.

The men met at the American Legion club in one of the regular Green Bay highway district sessions which occur about three times a year to acquaint commissioners and supervisors with district affairs and new legislation.

W. T. Blair, state highway commission director of finance, told the group that the entire matter of federal aid is up in the air and will remain so until congress acts. As of now, money for road aid is in a trust fund and the fund is operating on a deficit. The trust fund is a new idea, set up by congress in 1938. It was limited by amendment to pay out no more than it received from gas, auto and miscellaneous taxes.

However, last year the limit was lifted and the fund somewhat depleted. With the amendment in force, it was assumed that additional funds needed for aid would come from the federal general fund. But two congressional committees are deadlocked on the amount, how to raise it and when to apportion it to the states.

So far, about 25 states have halted awarding contracts, including Wisconsin.

Not only is aid cut off for new work, but the state must carry the normal federal share of existing work. The state will pay its bills and existing jobs will be completed, Blair said, but new jobs will be deferred.

Engineering Time
The slowdown in new construction work opens time for state engineering work, L. W. Empey, Green Bay district engineer, said.

Empey and his staff met this afternoon with individual counties to discuss which construction jobs should be scheduled for engineering work. It is the district's idea that counties will be able to program construction jobs through about 1961, although no particular priority will be set, Empey indicated.

The present trouble cutting off federal aid stems from the interstate system in effect using some of the funds which would normally flow into regular state, U.S. and county roads, Empey explained. The fund shortage affects all road work — state highways, city streets and county roads.

Flames Destroy Pleasure Boat At DePere

De Pere — A 63-foot pleasure boat owned by Dr. Ralph B. Lenz was destroyed by flames here early this morning.

The craft was the "Nan-J-Lin". Flames and smoke were rolling skyward from the diesel oil tanks when the fire was discovered at mid- night.

Dr. Lenz had the boat tied to the dock on the Fox river below the Lenz residence at 1631 Third street. Firemen poured water into the blazing hull for almost three hours.

Despite a slight southerly breeze which sent sparks and flames over the dock and adjacent boathouse, firemen succeeded in saving both. A sidewalk on the boathouse ignited and was badly scorched, however.

The fire originated in an aft cabin, according to De Pere Fire Chief Aelred Jacobs.

When the blaze was discovered, flames already had reached two fuel tanks. Firemen doused the craft with water to reduce the heat, eran, a member of the VFW, the Catholic Order of For- esters, and the Holy Name so- ciety of Sacred Heart Cath- olic church.

then concentrated on saving the adjacent structures. Jacobs said no estimate on the loss was immediately available.

The craft returned to De Pere Saturday after cruising Canadian waters.

Nichols Again Quiet as Curfew Controls Youth

Nichols — A curfew im- posed by the town of Cicero board on the community of Nichols at the suggestion of Sheriff's Lt. Jack Zuelzke and County Judge Stanley Staidl has cut off a wave of vandalism and rowdiness.

Marshal Harold Herman started enforcing the 9 p. m. curfew for youngsters Mon- day, a day before the an- nounced start of the curfew.

For some time the com- munity has been bothered by youngsters roaming the area from dusk until 1 and 2 a. m., pelting houses and people with apples and to- matoes, writing on building and generally making the summer evenings unpleas- ant.

Herman says the curfew has placed the trouble un- der control.

Ask Fire, Health Inspection of Acheson Property

The public safety commit- tee Tuesday asked for a city fire and health inspection of the Floyd Acheson property, 2407 N. Richmond street.

The request came after a neighbor, Lawrence Geske, 1925 N. Locust street, com- plained that Acheson left a broken concrete crusher in front of his house.

Fred Volkman, city electri- cal inspector, said he had served notice to Acheson to install two gasoline pumps properly. The pumps now are on wooden blocks and operat- ing through an extension cord hookup, he said.

Thundershower Brings Rain, Causes Fire

Chicken Coop Near New London Struck By Lightning Bolt

Thunder squalls swept across the Fox Cities area this morning dumping .20 of an inch of rain on Appleton and causing a fire near New London.

Lightning struck the chicken coop on the Albert Prah! farm, route 1, Weyauwega, about 7:30 a.m., causing an estimated $700 to the roof and trap part of the structure.

None of the 100 chickens was injured.

Prah! said the bolt must have traveled down a 50-foot oak and entered the coop through the chimney.

Prah! had just completed milking and was about to leave the barn when the bolt struck. He and his cows were knocked down. So were cows on the Gene Luedtke farm across County Trunk Z.

The New London fire department fought the blaze.

In Appleton, thunder started rolling at 4:15 a.m. and the rains came from 5:30 to 6:15 a.m. Another squall thundered through the city from 7:20 a.m. to 8:20 a.m.

Pleasant Day

A wind out of the south at 15 miles an hour and a partly overcast sky after the shower helped make the day a pleasant one.

The discomfort index reached 78 Tuesday as the mercury soared to 86. The early squall helped reduce the temperature to a low of 70. The temperature at 10 a.m. today was 77, with the discomfort index standing at 74.

Fairly mild temperatures and scattered showers appeared to be general throughout the nation today and forecasters believe the situation will continue Thursday.

Catholics Will Observe Feast Of Assumption

Special Masses, Confessions Set In Five Churches

Roman Catholics in the Fox Cities area will celebrate the Feast of the Assumption Saturday. Many churches have scheduled special morning and evening masses and will hold confessions.

The feast, honoring the assumption of the Blessed Virgin into Heaven after her death, according to Catholic tradition, was provided by Pope Pius XII on Nov. 1, 1950. He defined the doctrine and provided the new mass for the feast.

Pope John XXIII has granted dispensation to Roman Catholics from the obligation of not eating meat on Friday, the eve of the feast, the Vatican has announced.

In history, the feast has a somewhat vague past. A Catholic feast celebrating her death was observed in Pale-time in the Fifth century, possibly as early as the Fourth, some sources say.

In Rome, one general feast was observed until the last year of the seventh century. The Byzantine feast including the Assumption apparently was introduced in the time of Pope Sergius I, 687-701 A. D. From the eighth century on, the feast was generally observed on Aug. 15, as it is now.

The mass and confession schedules for Appleton Catholic churches are:

St. Pius X: Masses at 5:30, 7, and 9 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Confessions on Friday from 3 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8:30 p. m.

Sacred Heart: Masses at 5, 6, 7, 9 a. m., 12:05 and 5:30 p. m. Confessions Friday, 3 to 5 p. m.

St. Joseph: Masses at 4:45, 5:30, 6:45, 8, 9:15, 10:45 a. m., 12:05 and 6 p. m. Confessions Friday from 3 to 6 p. m. and 7:30 to 9 p. m.

St. Mary: Masses at 6, 7, 8, 9 a. m., 12:05 and 6:30 p. m. Confessions Friday from 3 to 5:30 p. m. and 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Soviets Agree To Satellite Warning Setup

Geneva—The Soviet union has agreed to a system of artificial satellites, to detect any sneak high altitude explosions once an agreement is reached banning nuclear weapon tests.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin beat the United States and Britain to the punch by giving Russia's formal acceptance to the plan at the 3-power conference negotiating on an agreement to end the tests.

The satellite detectors were recommended by a group of U. S., British and Russian scientists named by the conference. But the western delegates have not yet received their governments' instructions to enter formal approval on the conference record.

Welcome Move

U S Ambassador James J. Wadsworth and Sir Michael Wright of Britain said they welcomed the Soviet move and would put the scientists' recommendations into treaty language for consideration by the conference.

The scientists suggested sending five or six satellites thousands of miles up to watch for nuclear explosions in outer space. The satellites presumably would be launched by the three powers.

If the cost proved exorbitant, the experts recommended an alternative system of between six and 10 satellites in orbit at altitudes of from 300 to 420 miles. They said this would be almost as effective.

Badger School Traffic Children on Spencer Face Hazards, But Board Doesn't Know What to Do

Spencer street is a hazardous path for children walking to and from Badger school, the Outagamie county board agreed Tuesday.

Supervisors, however, could not agree on just who should correct the hazard. Spurning a report by the county board's highway committee, supervisors ordered the committee to meet at the school with Grand Chute officials, state highway department officials and any interested persons to discuss the problem and possible sidewalks along the road.

The highway committee and the state have reported the present 45-mile-an-hour speed limit is all right, refusing to lower it, and that trucks cannot be prohibited. A petition signed by about 100 persons in the area touched off the study.

Whose Responsibility?

"Some kid is going to get killed there, then we'll be under fire," said Supv. Sylvester Esler.

"Any walks are the responsibility of the town of Grand Chute," commented highway committee member Ervin Conradt.

"If there are 100 people signing a petition, the town should order the walks put in and charge the costs back to the people along Spencer," Supv. Walter Fredericks declared.

All of those 100 people don't live along Spencer, answered Supv. Arthur Lecker, town chairman of Grand Chute. "It's a county road, let the county put in the sidewalks," he added.

Supv. Joseph Weyers replied that if the county was going to build any sidewalks in Grand Chute, then his Freedom area wanted some, too.

Some Solution

"Out of 55 people on this board, some one ought to be able to figure out a solution," commented Esler.

"It's easy to drum up a petition," commented Supv. Patrick Heenan, "but whose signatures are on it? Find out who these people are and where they live. Maybe a meeting could iron out the details of this."

"I can see what a meeting like that would be like—those people want relief, but it's their problem, theirs and the municipality," declared highway committee member Edward Peotter. "That area is almost in the city now—its problems have changed because of the residential buildup," he added.

"Those people don't know who to ask or what's going on," maintained Esler. "Everyone they talk to gives them the brushoff, so have the meeting and thresh the whole thing out."

No date has been set for the public meeting.

County Okays Fair Loan for Building

Outagamie county Tuesday agreed to allow the Outagamie County Fair association to float a $15,000 mortgage for building the new junior fair building on the Seymour fairgrounds.

Since the county holds an option to buy the fairgrounds and buildings should the association ever cease operations, it was necessary for the county to agree to issuance of a first mortgage on the property. The county will not be responsible for the debt, Corp. Counsel Raymond Dohr told the board.

The new building is erected and cost about $16,000, it was reported. The loan will be negotiated with the First National Bank of Seymour.

'Bear' Air Game Works Against Packers' Defense

Hank Gremminger and Freeman Held Out of Defensive Drill

Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay — The Packers went on defense Tuesday. And it sure looked odd after days and days of offense. Actually, the Packers get defensive practice every day. When the offensive teams go through their maneuvers, the defenders automatically cover their positions; that's SOP.

Like defensive ace Em Tunnel said the other day: "We get our practice in the classroom."

2 Take It Easy

But Tuesday the offensive players became the Bears and the defenders got the big instructions from the coaches. Even Head Coach Vince Lombardi planted himself in the defensive secondary and worked with defensive coaches Phil Bengtson and Norb Hecker.

Two defenders took it easy on the sidelines with assorted medical problems — Hank Gremminger and Bob Freeman, both corner backers.

The "Bears" (Green Bay's non-league opponent in the Shrine game in Milwaukee Saturday night) had some success, particularly on some of their passes.

"Buddy" Mayfield, playing the role of Harlon Hill, took a deep pass about 40 yards downfield, with Billy Butler just behind. The ball was thrown by Bart (Ed Brown) Starr and it made a real picture play.

'Red Dog' Is On

There was one fly in the ointment... the "Red Dog" (rush) was on and Bill Forester was standing beside Starr when he threw it. The same situation in a real live game would have had Forester hitting the thrower before he had a chance to pitch. The QB undoubtedly would have taken off like a scared rabbit.

The defenders were urged by the coaches to play it but the "Bears" still kept their pass game hot. Their best catch was made by Steve Meilinger, who was playing end. He made a one-handed leaping snatch of a high throw.

Invitations Sent to 43

Vike Football Practice Will Begin Sept. 2

Lawrence College Football Coach Bernie Heseltin has invited 43 candidates to attend 1959 practice, which starts Sept. 2.

Of the 43 who are getting invitations, 17 are lettermen (10 seniors and seven juniors) and 26 are sophomores.

Usually, not everyone who receives an invitation comes out for the team, but Heseltin hopes that the vast majority will. One of his major problems is to build up the size of the squad, which has been extremely thin in numbers for some time.

Heading the returnees are co-captains Rick Ramsey (fullback or blocking back) and Dave Hackworthy (center).

Among the other expected returnees who were regulars last year on offense, or defense, or both, are quarterback Jim Schulze, tackle Bob Smith, guard Gil Sutherland, fullback Gary Scovel and ends Joe Lamers, Doug Logan and John Dunning.

Other lettermen include halfback Jim Leatham (who missed a good part of last season with a knee injury), back Mike Ulwelling; guards Bob Phil Doug Millard and Mark Rodman; defensive back Charlie Scruggs; quarterback Mike Gilboy and tackle Bill Whitmore.

Among the most promising of the sophomores are Neenah's Dave Thomsen, John Dixon, Bill Meyer and Mal Bayer; Menasha's Don Emerich; and West Allis' Dave Jordan.

Equipment will be issued Sept. 1. Assistant Vike football coaches Don Boya and Gene Davis are attending the All-Star coaching clinic at Northwestern today through Friday.

The 1958 schedule:
Sept. 2—Kane (home).
Sept. 26—Grinnell (home).
Oct. 3—Menominee (away).
Oct. 10—Beloit (homecoming).
Oct. 17—Pilon (away).
Oct. 24—Coe (away).
Oct. 31—Carlisle (home). Dad's day.
Nov. 7—St. Olaf (away).

Ed "Big Mo" Modzelewski, of the Cleveland Browns, is stopped on the Pittsburgh Steelers 8-yard-line by Dick Alban and John Reger (behind "Mo") in the second quarter Tuesday night at Pittsburgh. The Steelers won the exhibition game, 34-20.

NOTES and NOTIONS

When Hal Totten, 3-I league president, stopped off at Goodland field a few days ago, he got the word from Fox Cities club officials that the Foxes are ready to go in 1960. Despite some discouragements—such as the unfavorable weather on two "special" nights last week—the Foxes are in good shape, and with any kind of luck in these last four weeks, should again finish in the black. Green Bay, where Totten began his "sounding out" tour, also wants in again in '60 despite its painful 1959 gate problem. Totten still has six clubs to visit, so there is no way of telling yet just how the league will line up next year.

There's also a boll weevil in the league's cotton field which could confuse the issue before and during the winter meetings. That would be the beginning of agitation in some quarters about league traveling distances. There seems to be some feeling in Topeka and Sioux City, particularly, that the circuit would be better off if the Fox and Bluejay franchises were lopped off in the interest of compactness. I don't believe the few "cranks" will get to first base with this campaign. Not only are the Fox Cities and Green Bay among the loop's sounder franchises but they played major roles in keeping the league afloat during the crises of 1957-9. Totten and most of the league club officials aren't likely to forget this. The complainers are not on very firm ground, to say the least. League newcomers Topeka and Sioux City (as well as Lincoln) rest in the bottom half of the attendance charts.

The two best hitters (for average) in the 3-I league last year are experiencing amazingly parallel slumps in 1959. Bating king Carlos "Potato" Pascual, of the Foxes, is down nearly 100 points from .372 of last year. Cedar Rapids' Dick Selinger, runnerup in '58 with a .347 mark, has slipped about 80 points.

Bob Hoerning's head football coaching stint at West De Pere High school this fall will mark his debut in prep coaching. Hoerning was one of New London High school's standout athletes and won four letters in both football and basketball at St. Norbert college. His play with the Green Knights attracted the eyes of the football pros, and he was drafted by the Rams in 1955. However, a knee injury stood in the way of his launching a pro career. He played some football during a 3-year army stint.

With the start of high school football practice right around the corner, it might be well for all candidates to take stock of their physical and mental readiness for the season. As one area coach pointed out to us the other day, there are probably more youths today than formerly who don't take training as seriously as they should. We certainly agree that prep players owe it to themselves and to their schools to give it 100 per cent if they're going into it at all. Nothing worthwhile is achieved without hard work and some sacrifice.

Cub Homers Trip Dodgers; Phillies Win

By The Associated Press
The San Francisco Giants edged St. Louis, 5-4, in 10 innings Tuesday night to widen their National league lead to three games over second place Los Angeles, beaten, 4-3, by Chicago in 10 innings. The Giants hiked their lead to 31 games over third place Milwaukee, which split a twin bill with Cincinnati.

Philadelphia dropped Pittsburgh into a fourth place tie with the Cubs by defeating the Pirates, 6-4. Kirkland Homers Willie Kirkland drove in four runs to account for all but one of the Giants' runs as they swept the 2-game series from St. Louis. Kirkland smashed a 3-run homer, his nineteenth, in the first inning, and drove in the winning run with a single in the tenth. Lindy McDaniel was the victim.

Johnny Antonelli lost his bid for victory No. 17 when the Cards scored two in the ninth to tie the score. Stu Miller, in relief, picked up his second victory in two nights. Ernie Banks' thirty-third homer gave the Cubs a 2-1 lead but Los Angeles went into the ninth with a 3-2 advantage.

Banks' run-scoring single sent the game into extra innings. After Los Angeles went ahead, 4-3, in the tenth, Al

Adcock's Hitting Wins For Burdette

By the Associated Press
If Milwaukee doesn't win the pennant this year, blame it on the Cincinnati Reds.

The Braves whipped the Reds 18 out of 22 in 1957 and won the championship by eight games. Last year, Milwaukee took 17 out of 22 from the Reds and Adcock again won by eight games.

It's a little different this year. Including Tuesday night's split of a doubleheader, the Braves have been able to win only six of the 14 games played with the Reds. Hence, they're in third place today, 31 games behind the league leading San Francisco Giants.

The Braves had to come from behind to win the second game, 7-3, after Cincinnati had won the opener, 4-3.

After beating Warren Spahn for the fourth time this season, the Reds almost duplicated the feat against Lew Burdette, another old time Cincinnati tormentor, in the second game. They led, 3-1, but Joe Adcock slammed his second homer of the day and Billy Bruton followed with another 4-bagger to give Burdette his sixteenth triumph.

Home runs by Gus Bell and Frank Robinson accounted for Spahn's eleventh defeat in the opener.

Adcock had 4-for-4 in the second game, including his home run and a pair of doubles. He also homered in the first game and ran his hitting streak to 18 consecutive games.

Nuxhall Wins Joe Nuxhall was the winner for the Reds in the opener and now is 6-9. The loser in the second game was young Jay Hook, now 2-2.

Joey Jay (4-9) is slated to hurl for Milwaukee in tonight's game, going against Jim O'Toole (2-5).

A crowd of 29,897, second in size only to the opening day turnout, saw the Braves come from behind and tie the score 3-3, in the second game on Adcock's sixth-inning home run and take the lead in the seventh on Bruton's smash.

Milwaukee added three

Bees Snap Bruckbauer Win Streak at Four With 4 to 3 Decision

18th One-Run Setback of Season Drops Fox Cities Back to 5th

Burlington — Their eighth defeat in 29 one-run decisions kept the Fox Cities Bees from gaining ground on first-place Des Moines Tuesday night.

The Demons lost to third place Topeka, but the Foxes fell too, 4-3, to Burlington's Bees. It broke a 3-game victory streak over the Bees.

The setback dropped the losers into fifth place in the circuit's second round race. They still trail Des Moines by five games.

Tonight, Earl Furlow, (4-4) will attempt to even the series at a game apiece. He'll be opposed by Don Prince (7-10).

Right-hander Charley Herzberger got the decision Tuesday, setting down the visitors on eight hits over the 9-inning route. He also allowed six walks but stranded 11 base runners, fanning eight.

The loser was Fred Bruckbauer (6-4), who had his winning streak broken at four games. Bruckbauer went out for a pinch hitter ("Potato" Pascual) in the eighth after allowing all four runs on seven hits and four walks.

Fox Hernan Vila doubled and singled to stretch his hitting skien to nine games. Ron Dibelius stroked a pair of singles for the second straight night.

The Fox Cities scored one in the first. With two out, Vila and "Chuck" Weatherspoon hit back-to-back doubles to left field.

Burlington tied it in the last of the second. Horace Ingram beat out an infield hit, stole second and went to third on Feller's wild throw to second. Dave Wondra lined a single off Jim Johnston's glove, scoring Ingram.

Burlington went ahead, 2-1, in the fourth on back-to-back doubles by Ingram and Wondra to left field. The Bees add-

Brue's 133 Makes Shambles Out of State Open Tourney

Shoots Record 64 for 10-Stroke Lead at Meet's Half-Way Point

BY JACK RUDOLPH Post-Crescent News Service Green Bay—Blazing Bobby Brue, sweeping over the rugged Brown county layout in one of the finest rounds of golf ever seen in Green Bay, virtually made a shambles of the State Open tournament Tuesday.

Below Has 148 Total Bob Below, Neenah Ridge-way pro, Tuesday, added a 75 to his first-day 73 for a 2-day total of 148 in the state open. Butte des Morts' Bob Ferrel, well up among the leading amateurs with a first-day 75, slipped to an 84 for a 36-hole total of 159. Ridgeway's Elmer Selig carded an 82 for a 2-day mark of 159. Ridgeway's Joe Koller has a 169 on 87-82.

the previous course mark and one of the half dozen best scores ever recorded locally. Coupled with his first round 69, Bobby had 133 after 30 holes and an almost insurmountable 10-stroke lead as his closest competition faltered badly.

Slip to 74s Dick Sucher, Milwaukee amateur, and pro Mike Benerscutto of Racine, tied with Brue going into the second round, slipped to 74s for a halfway mark of 143. The next nearest rival, Harry Simonson of Milwaukee, who was only one stroke behind the trio after nine holes stumbled through the second round in 80 and fell to 150.

Archie Dadian also collapsed and came in with an 83, virtually putting himself out of contention with a 154 gross. Brue's consistency was fantastic on a course that has yielded par or lower to only 12 contestants in the first half of the 72-hole marathon. He posted eight birdies, four on

Foresees Further Dwindling Majors Must Subsidize Minors to Even Greater Extent, Says Giles

BY FRITZ HOWELL Cincinnati, Ohio — Warren C. Giles says minor league baseball can survive only through complete, or nearly complete, subsidization by the majors.

The National league president also believes the minor league structure, which has skidded from 59 to 21 leagues since 1949, will dwindle further to the absolute minimum necessary to develop players over the Cleveland Browns in Pittsburgh.

Krutko, who was released after the fourth game last year, has been the sensation of the Steelers California, Pa., training camp. He impressed Parker so much that he gained the starting fullback assignment against the Browns.

Attendance in Minors Up Over 1958

Columbus, Ohio — More people are attending minor league baseball games this year than last, says George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues.

The jump is about a half million persons, he reported to baseball executives here Tuesday. Trautman said it marked the first time since 1949 that the minors had showed any kind of increase at this time of year.

Sooner scouts took it several miles north to Caddo, then stopped for the night.

Tie Score in 6th

The Foxes tied it at 3-3 in the sixth. Dibelius singled to right. Harry Noun made a great running catch of Dick Harris' pop fly in short right field. He whirled and threw to first, attempting to double Dibelius, but the throw got away and Ron went to second. Jack Feller and Fred Bruckbauer walked to load the bases. Herzberger then uncorked a wild pitch, Dibelius scoring, and the runners advancing. Condu beat out and infield hit and Feller came home. Then, Vila grounded out to end the rally.

The Bees scored the winning run in the last of the sixth. Jack Evans doubled down the left field line and Pete Embry lined a single to right, scoring Evans.

A great play by Burlington's Don Davis kept the Foxes from scoring two runs in the fourth. With runners on first and third and two out, Bruckbauer shot a liner towards the right field corner but first baseman Davis made a leaping stab to retire the side.

runs in the eighth to put the game out of Redleg reach. A walk to Wes Covington and doubles by Adcock and Johnny Logan accounted for two markers. Two walks loaded the bases and Logan scored on a sacrifice.

The Reds lost shortstop Roy McMillan in the third inning of the nightcap when a second base collision with Bruton broke his collar bone. McMillan had returned to the lineup only two weeks ago after seven weeks on the bench due to a fractured bone in his throwing hand.

Cincinnati got a run in the first inning of the nightcap when Johnny Temple walked, stole second, went to third on Del Rice's low throw and scored on a sacrifice.

The Reds added a run in the third when Vada Pinson doubled and Gus Bell singled him home. Ed Bailey gave Cincinnati its third run in the fourth on a home run.

Milwaukee's first score came in the fourth on three singles. They got another in the fifth on three more singles.

Gains 4-1 Lead

In the opener, Nuxhall had all he could do to hold his victory after gaining a 4-1 lead. Adcock's eighth-inning homer cut down the Reds' lead to one run. In the ninth, Nuxhall gave up his second walk of the game to Andy Pafko before Del Rice hit into a double play to end the game.

It was the first time that Nuxhall had beaten the Braves since September, 1954. He struck out 10 men and his only big trouble came in the sixth inning when he tied a four men.

Felix Mantilla and Hank Aaron singled while Eddie Mathews and Adcock struck out. Nuxhall fanned Del Crandall, too. But catcher "Dutch" Dotterer let the third strike get past him and Crandall reached first safely, cramming the bases. Nuxhall, however, struck out Logan to end the threat.

Cincinnati—4P— Milwaukee General Manager John McHale sees no help for the Braves from their minor league clubs in the stretch drive for a third National league pennant.

"The Braves will have to pull themselves up by their own bootstraps," McHale said as he joined the club here to see it split a doubleheader with Cincinnati.

"They have got to have determination and pride to continue to be champions," he added. "It's there, but it has to be strong enough to make them work that much harder."

Reds Tighten Three-I Race

17-Hit Barrage Buries Demons; 'Jays Cop Pair

By The Associated Press

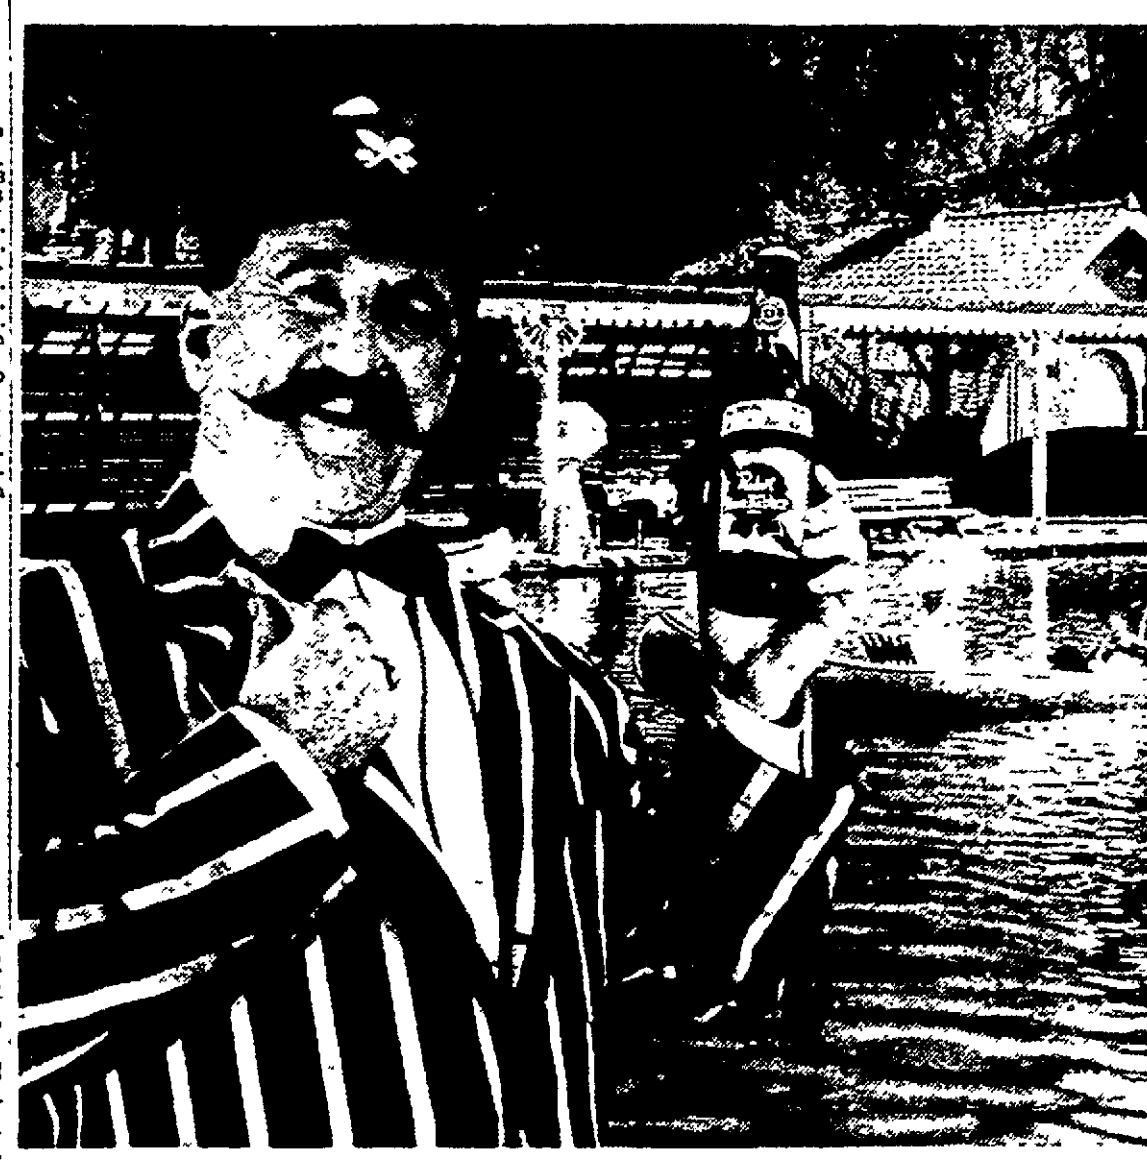

Topeka tightened the Three-I league race Tuesday night with a 17-hit barrage that buried first-place Des Moines, 12-4.

Sioux City beat Lincoln and Green Bay swept a doubleheader from Cedar Rapids. The results put the Soos 2 1/2 games from the top with Topeka a half-game back in third.

Grant Halsne, former Iowa State pitcher, posted his ninth victory for Topeka by stopping the Demons' on five hits. Marty Rosell-Don Pavletich and Bill Dasher homered for the Reds.

"Bud" Blemker won his seventh straight game since joining Sioux City a month ago by beating Lincoln, 4-2. He also hit a 2-run double in the eighth inning for the deciding margin. Norm Shill and Tony Cannizzo homered for the Soos.

Green Bay edged Cedar Rapids, 4-3 and 4-2. George

Cunningham Sets 2 Marks In State Meet

Nancy Zeumer Cops Pair of 1sts in AA Swim Event

The Lawrence Swim club's Nancy Zeumer won two state championships over the weekend in the Wisconsin AAU swimming meet in Milwaukee's Gordon Park pool. Appleton's Al Cunningham, swimming unattached setting state records in the 200-meter and 100-meter back stroke.

Miss Zeumer, of Neenah, copped the women's 400 and 800 meter free style events, swam on the winning 400-meter free style relay team, placed third in the 100-meter breast stroke and the 400-meter medley relay.

The LSC was second in the women's meet to the Racine Swim Club, 28 points behind Racine's meet-winning total of 111.

Second 3 Times

The Lawrence Swim club's Jane Dillon was second in three events—the 200-meter backstroke, 100-meter backstroke and 100-meter free style—fourth in the 100-meter individual medley, swam on the winning 400-meter free style relay team and on the third place 400-meter medley relay squad.

Cunningham turned the 200-meter backstroke in 2:34.2 to shatter the old mark set by Tom Wissing and Peter Allen in 1958—a time of 2:45.3. He copped the 100-meter back stroke in 1:11.1, smashing the former standard of 1:13.2 established by Thomas Wissing in 1955.

Other LSC members to place in the meet included: Sue Fleischman, third in the 100-meter free style; Norma Metoxen, fourth in the 100-meter back stroke; Jill Bylow, Helen Dixon and Chris LeDain, fourth, fifth and sixth respectively in women's 3-meter diving; and the LSC 400-meter medley team of Dillon, Zeumer, Lois Cotton and Fleischman, third. Dillon, Zeumer, Dixon and Fleischman were on the winning free style relay squad.

Post Office can clinch the undisputed title in the Association Industrial Softball league by knocking off Wisconsin Wires—the only club left with championship hopes—in a makeup game this evening.

Post Office's latest win was a 16-7 success over the Appleton Wire Workers earlier in the week. The winners cracked 15 hits with Donald Blaeser rapping four—including a 3-run home run—to lead the way.

Wisconsin Wires lost to United Grocers, 9-7. The victors swatted just five hits off loser Ralph Riehl. The Courthouse tripped Western Condensing, 9-4. Dick Schuchart compiled a pair of hits for the Courthouse.

A Variety of Clothing for that popular autumn back-to-school surge completes this young man's wardrobe. The suits and sportswear accessories make sure that this person will fit easily, comfortably and fashionably into campus life. Also included are enough light luggage to make those weekend jaunts home.

College Men Must Select Wardrobe Looking Ahead to School Location

Young men heading back to college this fall will select their wardrobes looking ahead to their destinations rather than behind them to the manner of dress in their hometowns.

While Ivy styling continues to dominate the wardrobe of the average university man in most schools, there are new trends in the making and, despite some natural geographical considerations in clothing preferences, there are some slight but important differences that mark the young-man-in-the-know on almost every campus.

Most freshmen are quick to spot the right type of attire on the campus of their choice, but they are generally in doubt about the size of the wardrobe they will need.

To help them over this hurdle, the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear has prepared sectional listings of what is being worn on campuses in the various parts of the country. The needs are presented into both basic and liberal wardrobe requirements.

College men in the Midwest are "brothers under their natural shoulder suits" to their campus confreres in the east and south in matters of wardrobe.

Old Folk Ballad Top Fox Cities Recording

'Three Bells' by Browns in First Place, Presley Tune Runs Second

BY DICK DISC
"Three Bells," the old folk ballad about Jimmy Brown, is now the No. 1 tune in the Fox Cities. It has replaced "My Heart Is An Open Book," which has now moved down to fourth place.

Several tunes, it is interesting to note, have already been hit tunes, yet appear in the current top 10. These include "Three Bells," "Ragtime Cowboy Joe," "Mona Lisa," and this week's new addition to the chart, "Lavender Blue," the ballad by Sammy Turner.

Here's the chart for the Fox Cities:

1. "Three Bells" by the Browns.
2. "A Big Hunk of Love" by Elvis Presley.
3. "Mona Lisa" by Carl Mann.
4. "My Heart Is An Open Book" by Carl Dopkins, Jr.
5. "Waterloo" by Stonewall Jackson.
6. "It Was I" by Skip and Flip.
7. "Here Comes Summer" by Jerry Keller.
8. "Lavender Blue" by Sammy Turner.
9. "Lonely Boy" by Paul Anka.
10. "Ragtime Cowboy Joe" by David Seville and the Chipmunks.

Ten years ago, the nation's top tune was "Some Enchanted Evening," and, according to Billboard, five years ago "Little Things Mean A Lot" was a big one.

Record Review

Records in review: "See You In September" by the Tempos. This tune's message is rather late for the summer season, but the tune is a rather cute one. It's neatly sung by the vocal group and doesn't feature a heavy rock and roll. The tune should rank as tops for any music lover.

"Mack the Knife," the old

Louis Armstrong classic, is revived in fine style by Bobby Darin. His vocal version is certainly worthy of much praise. Though somewhat in the jazz medium, the tune has a good deal of pop merit. It's also featured in Bobby's current album, "That's All," and was the most popular tune in that package.

"Morgen" by Ivo Robic. This is different! Very different! But, it's also rather interesting. The lyrics are done in German, but as "Volare" was the top tune in Italy last year about this time, this one is presently a smash in Germany. The tune, a ballad, is quite pretty. It has a good beat and strong choral backing. There are several versions now available.

Winterhalter Album
New albums include: "Two Sides of Winterhalter" with the Hugo Winterhalter orchestra. A nice album of two contrasting sides. One side has slow, easy going melodies, the other side features jump tunes. Both contain some mighty entertaining melodies. Included in the slow and serious side is "Laura," and "Gigi." Then Hugo bounces along with "One O'clock Jump" and others. Good album of varied music.

Irish William O'Dwyer Expert on Mexican Bandits

Mexico City—An Irish-gins Sept. 1, Glick said. Star man who was a mayor of New York is now an expert on Mexican bandits. William O'Dwyer, of course, is chief adviser to a company making 39 television shorts tentatively scheduled to appear in the United States (ABC).

The series is called "Bandit television series for the dido" (Bandit) but the producers, Ron Gorton and Steve Glick, are seeking a new name to pacify Mexican feelings. A nationwide contest is being conducted for the new name, with a $1,000 first prize offered. Shooting of the series began Sept. 1, Glick said. Star man who was a mayor of New York is now an expert on Mexican bandits. William O'Dwyer, of course, is chief adviser to a company making 39 television shorts tentatively scheduled to appear in the United States (ABC).

O'Dwyer

First Time
Glick claims several firsts for the show:
"It's the first time an entire television series for the United States has been made completely in Mexico. And it's the first time, I think, that the Mexicans are portrayed as heroes." It's also probably the first time an Irish mayor of New York became an authority on Mexican bandits.

Shares Again Move Higher

Electronics Lead in Moderate Trade On Stock Exchange

New York — A— Electronics and other speculative issues resumed their recovery in a moderately higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

The "wonder stocks" advanced as much as 4 points or so while the slower-moving pivots gained from fractions to about a point.

An assortment of small losers also appeared among key issues.

The market was higher at the opening then slid into irregularity for a while. Renewed buying interest pepped up prices and gave the list a fair gain by mid-session.

Brokers said the market still seemed to be in a consolidation phase after Monday's sharp break. Meanwhile, business news and economic forecasts were bright.

Coppers, tobaccos, chemicals, drugs, building materials and some motors were up moderately. Steels and rails showed little change.

Texas Instruments and Ligon Industries rose about 4 points each. Reynolds Metals rose about 4. General Motors and Chrysler were ahead about a point.

U. S. Steel eased. Texaco added more than a point. Du Pont rose about a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 70 cents to $231.40 with the industrials up $1.40, the rails up 20 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Government bonds were firm.

Wisconsin Cheese

Youth Sought for Shooting Father Gives Himself Up

Beaver Dam — A 20-year-old youth wanted in connection with the rifle shooting of his father surrendered today after spending the night in a cornfield just north of Beaver Dam on Highway 33.

Owen Jones of Beaver Dam walked to the farm of Philip Hoffman and asked that authorities be called. He was taken into custody for questioning.

Sheriff Robert Schultz said Jones shot his father, Earl, 55, with a deer rifle during a street corner argument in Beaver Dam Tuesday night.
